

NRA Omits Text Report Of Research Planning

WASHINGTON—Members of the Senate Finance Committee, now investigating the NRA, have decided that hereafter they will demand original copies of NRA reports. Reason: Senators have discovered that under the Blue Eagle there are reports—and reports.

On the opening day of the probe, "Assistant President" Don Richberg was asked to furnish the committee with copies of the NRA Research and Planning Division report. This is the document which, among other things, declared:

"That while payrolls in December, 1934, were only about 60 per cent of the total in 1926, dividends and interest were 150 per cent of their total in 1926; that code fixed minimum wages showed a marked tendency to become maximum; that 40 per cent of the workers employed under codes are working more than 40 hours a week; that the big industries in general were allowed to fix the lowest minimum pay scales and that the NRA is costing the country $55,000,000 a year to operate. The next morning bound copies of the report were handed each Senator.

But when several of them began poring through the document they found it consisted almost entirely of bewildering charts, graphs and tabulations.

All the damning textual matter mentioned above was mysteriously missing.

When challenged on the deletions by Alabama's Senator Hugo Black, Richberg insisted that the submitted copies were no different from the original.

"We just left out some of the discursive language," he said. "I should say you did," shot back Black. "That 'discursive' language is exactly what we want to see. Please see that we get it."

Richberg promised to get him an original copy—if one was available.

Pink Elephant

Young, liberal Vito Marcantonio, successor to the seat held in the House for many years by Mayor LaGuardia, is the recipient of a unique decoration.

He has had bestowed on him the Order of the Pink Pachyderm. Donor is his fellow-crusader Maury Maverick of Texas, grandson of a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence and himself the wearer of distinguished medals—the Silver Star and the Purple Heart won on the battle fields in France.

Maverick decorated his colleague with the following citation:

By virtue of the power vested in me as a gentleman, (I am a gentleman according to the rules of the House) I do hereby present to the gentleman, (according to the rules of the House) Mr. Vito Marcantonio the following:

ONE PINK PACHYDERM
Forasmuch as the said Marcantonio is an off-color Republican, to-wit, a Liberal, a sincere friend of the people, and believes in following the Constitution of the United States wherein it is said there shall be Liberty of Speech, Press, Conscience and Religion, and a worthy successor to Fiorello LaGuardia, the said Marcantonio shall hereinafter be known and designated as:

The Pink Pachyderm of Congress.

MAURY MAVERICK,
The Gentleman from Texas

The Question

The fate of the bonus issue this session revolves about only one question:

Can the backers of the legislation muster sufficient support to override the veto of the President? Congress is certain to pass a bonus bill.

SPORTSMEN OF COUNTY FEAST, ENJOY EVENING

Bittinger, Pfeiffer, Other Notables Attend Annual Meeting

BROWN IS CHAIRMAN

More Than 300 are Served
Red Snapper

The annual meeting and banquet of the Pickaway Farmers' and Sportsmen's association, held in the Elks club rooms Thursday night, was one of the most successful and enjoyable affairs in the history of the organization. More than 300 members and guests were in attendance, all sections of Pickaway-co being represented in addition to a number from adjoining counties and a large delegation of notables from Columbus.

The fish dinner prepared and served by members of the association was all that could be desired, and the committee in charge was highly complimented for the excellence of the repast.

Immediately following the banquet the members and guests assembled in the lodge room where an exceptionally interesting program was presented. H. E. Betz, president of the association, extended a cordial welcome to the members and guests and introduced the master of ceremonies, E. A. Brown. During Mr. Brown's preliminary remarks he introduced a number of guests from a distance, some of whom appeared later on the program of impromptu remarks.

Activities Reviewed

Fred C. Clark, prominent member of and active worker in the organization, read a splendid paper which gave a review of the activities of the association for the past year. He paid a splendid tribute to the president, H. E. Betz, for his untiring efforts in behalf of the sportsmen and the program outlined for the year, to all officers and the committees, and also to Clarence Francis, local game protector, for his splendid co-operation. Mr. Clark gave a brief resume of the activities of the organization in starting work on the dam on the old canal, south of the city, which will provide a place of recreation for all residents of the county. The work is now well under way, and the organization is making plans for further improvements at this recreation center.

Fred Harlow, district law enforcement officer in charge of 11 counties, gave some interesting information relative to the conservation work being carried on throughout the district, and Paul Gunthrup, publisher of the Sportsman's Magazine, followed with a few remarks concerning the work being carried on through publicity channels.

Henry J. Pfeiffer, of Kenton, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, was introduced and briefly touched on conservation work in general that is being carried on throughout the state, commending very highly the work that is being done by sportsmen's organizations.

Sponsored Conservancy

The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. J. Freer Bittinger, speaker of the House of Representatives, who humorously related some of his experiences as a law-

BANK ELECTS NEW CASHIER

Reichelderfer Begins Duties
Today; Niles Chosen As New Director

N. E. Reichelderfer, E. Franklin-st, former resident of Ashville and Tarlton, started his duties today as cashier of the Circleville Savings and Banking Co., filling the vacancy left by the death of Joseph R. Noecker, who had held that position many years.

Mr. Reichelderfer was elected at a meeting of directors of the institution Wednesday afternoon. Five other persons, who were not named sought the position.

Miss Katharine Mead or Orwell Barr, who served with Mr. Noecker, were elected early in the year to serve as other employees of the bank.

Charles M. Niles, of Jackson-twp was elected a member of the board of directors of the institution. He will fill the place left vacant by Mr. Noecker's death.

Mr. Reichelderfer has had much experience in the banking business and should prove an efficient official. He served for several years in the state banking department in addition to having experience in an Ashville bank. He also taught school.

Ora Slater Announces Man, Formerly On Radio, Admits
Slaying Merchant

DELAWARE, Mar. 15—Ora Slater, famous Cincinnati detective who is credited with solving the Jake Nesbitt murder case at Troy and the Don Mellett slaying at Canton, today announced that he had obtained a confession from Webb Scott, 27, a negro, in connection with the killing of W. A. Wilson, aged clothing store owner here last Feb. 9.

Scott admitted, Slater said, that he had hit Wilson with a heavy window sash weight when the latter caught him in the basement of the Wilson home. The negro claimed he had been stealing fruit, according to the purported confession and did not know when he struck Wilson that it had been a death blow.

23 LUMBERMEN MEET
AND TALK BUSINESS

Twenty-three lumbermen of district No. 4 of the State Lumberman's association met at the Boggs' hotel, Thursday evening, for their monthly session.

The business meeting was preceded by a dinner at 6:30. Alfred Lee was host.

Arthur Slagel, of Greenfield, chairman of the district, was in charge of the business transactions.

Well Known Saltcreek-twp
Man Succumbs Thursday Afternoon

Daniel Clifton Machlin, 52, died Thursday at 12:30 p. m. at his home in Saltcreek-twp following a week's illness of pneumonia.

He is survived by his widow, Hazel Kathryn Macklin, three sons: David of Rockbridge, R. F. D., George and Robert at home and one daughter, Mary Ann at home.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Adelphi M. E. church with burial in Green Summit cemetery by H. E. Deffenbaugh and Son.

BOXER SUICIDES IN BARBER SHOP

BALTIMORE, March 15—Walter Dodson, amateur boxer, walked into the village barber shop here last night, waved to acquaintances and announced: "Well boys, I don't think I will be here long."

He then drew a revolver and shot and killed himself, authorities said.

RAIN AIDS CROP OF WINTER WHEAT

COLUMBUS, Mar. 15—A "tremendous improvement" in the winter wheat crop in Ohio was predicted today by Dr. H. C. Ram-sower, head of the agriculture extension bureau at Ohio State university, as the result of recent rains.

Additional rains, he said, would "even better the outlook."

The downpours also will help to restore underground water supplies and make up for the deficiency in rainfall during the drought last summer he added.

Spring plowing has started in many sections, he pointed out, and the overturned ground will help to soak up the water that would otherwise run off.

"Prospects for wheat because of the rains are very encouraging," he said.

HUEY CHALLENGED BY 'COWBOY SOLO'

WASHINGTON, March 15—Senator Huey Long, "share the wealth" crusader, was challenged today to disclose his own wealth to the nation.

Rep. P. H. Gassaway (D) of Oklahoma, the "cowboy congressman" said he would make the demand in a nationwide radio speech at 10 a. m.

"If he isn't in the employ of money barons, where does he get the money to maintain his 'standing army'?" said Gassaway, referring to Long's bodyguard.

Gassaway, said 15 members of congress were collaborating on the speech in which he intends to assail Long.

POST SPEEDING HIGH IN AIR ON RECORD FLIGHT

Famed Airman Hopes to Reach New York in Seven Hours' Time

LEAVES AT 9 A. M.

Plane May Reach 5-miles-
a-Minute Speed

UNION AIR TERMINAL, Los Angeles, March 15—Hoping to reach New York in seven hours, or less Wiley Post hopped off here at 7:15 a. m. (EST) today on his second attempted stratosphere flight.

Post's stratosphere plane, the "Winnie Mae" in which he has twice circled the globe fairly leaped into the air after a short run, and it had hardly cleared the ground before Post released his landing gear.

Lost to Watchers

The Lockheed plane, powered with a 550 horsepower Pratt-Whitney supercharged wasp motor, climbed rapidly and in a few seconds was lost to view in the hazy eastern sky.

After waiting most of the night for a pea-soup fog which had shrouded the airport to clear, Post, shortly before 9 a. m. was helped into his specially designed stratosphere suit, in which he resembles a mythical "man from Mars."

The "Winnie Mae" was wheeled onto the field and warmed up.

Post said he planned to climb to the sub-stratosphere as rapidly as possible, while heading eastward in an almost direct line, which will take him over Pueblo, Colo., near Omaha, Neb., about 100 miles south of Chicago, and into New York by way of Columbus, Ohio.

5 Miles Minute

The plane, as it is equipped, is expected to average more than five miles per minute in the rarified upper atmosphere.

FORMER MEMBER OF CONGRESS, 82, DIES

Albert Douglas, Who Served
11th District 1907-1911,
Dies In Capital

CHILLICOTHE, March 15—His many friends here today were mourning the death of Albert Douglas, 82, another of her illustrious sons, who died early Thursday in Washington, D. C. of infirmities.

Mr. Douglas has been living in Washington since his retirement from congress where he served as representative of the 11th Ohio district for two terms succeeding the late General Charles H. Grosvenor of Athens.

The former solon graduated from Harvard law school in 1874 and in the early 70's was elected prosecutor. In 1889 he was a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket but was unsuccessful.

He was elected to congress in 1907 and again in 1909.

He served for many years as a director of the First National bank and was active in St. Paul's Episcopal church.

He is survived by two children a brother and sister.

C. M. HUBER HURT

C. M. Huber, 357 E. Ohio-st, suffered an injured back at 10 a. m. Friday while he was helping lift a porch at the rear of his residence. Dr. E. R. Austin was called to render aid.

REYNOLDS FORTUNE SET AT $27,975,000

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 15—The fortune of Zachary Smith Reynolds, mysteriously slain young heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions, today amounts to $27,975,000. B. S. Womble, attorney for the Reynolds family, told the Forsyth-co superior court today.

The fortune consisting principally of stock in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, has increased in value by nearly five million dollars since young Reynolds died of a bullet through his head, fired from his own gun, at his beautiful estate here July 6, 1932.

CRITES, REID LEASE MILL

Latter Named Manager of Haynes Mill at Waverly;
To Handle Grain

H. M. Crites and Ray P. Reid have leased the C. E. Haynes flour, feed and grain mill from Charles E. Haynes and Son, Corbett, of Waverly, and have taken possession.

The mill has been leased for two years with Reid, who has been in the brokerage business here, acting as manager. He has been in the grain business since 1921.

The lease includes everything at the mill property except a feed lot which has been retained by the owners for feeding cattle and hogs.

Mr. Haynes and his son will devote their time to the timber and farming business. They have about 1700 acres of timber which they expect to cut up for lumber.

The Waverly Republican Herald says the following concerning the transaction:

"The Haynes have successfully operated the mill for the past twelve years. During that period they have done a tremendous business, selling their products mostly in Kentucky and West Virginia. In the last few years they have limited their operations to the buying and selling of grain only, having done away with their flour and feed business."

"Mr. Crites and Mr. Reid come to Waverly highly recommended. Mr. Crites has been in the grain and flour business since 1890 and is considered the leading grain dealer in central Ohio. He owns several mills and canning factories near Circleville and the local institutions will furnish him an opportunity of purchasing much grain in the southern part of the state."

"At the present, they will deal in grain only but a little later on, when business conditions improve, they hope to start the flour and feed mills operating again."

PRESIDENT'S SENIOR SECRETARY SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, March 15—Louis Mch. Howe, senior secretary to President Roosevelt, was seriously ill at the White House today.

Never robust, Howe has been in ill health for some time, and his illness was aggravated by a cold contracted when he accompanied the President to Boston three weeks ago.

Dr. Ross McIntyre, White House physician, diagnosed his condition as due to bronchial trouble supplemented by cardiac weakness.

FARMER IMPROVES

C. D. Valentine, of near Amanda regained consciousness, Thursday, after being kicked under the chin by a horse at his home, Tuesday. He is well known in this county and friends will be glad to learn that he is resting better Friday.

Flies "Robot" Plane

Capt. Clayton Bissell

After piloting the new mystery plane of the department of commerce out to sea from Oakland, Cal., Capt. Clayton Bissell, above, pilot, declared the test satisfactory. Secrets of the plane were guarded from newspapermen but it was learned the flight was to test an automatic compass enabling a pilot instantly to determine his position and fly to his destination by means of signals from a radio transmitter on ship or land.

STORM DELAYS ROBOT FLIGHT

Government's Mystery Ship
Grounded; To Attempt
Hawaiian Journey

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., March 15—A storm sweeping from the Pacific caused postponement of the projected takeoff early today of the government's mysterious robot plane, the NC223Y, on a "blind" radio compass direct flight to Hawaii.

At 1 a. m. Capt. Clayton Bissell, army aviator, and Major Chester Snow, department of commerce aviation expert, appeared in night attire in the lobby of airport inn and announced:

"Weather conditions early this morning will not be favorable for radio compass flying. There will be no flight this morning and future operations are to be delayed pending favorable weather."

Capt. Bissell then issued orders to return the huge twin-motored low-winged Douglas plane to his hangar. The big plane had been wheeled from its hangar last night and loaded with a capacity of 1590 gallons of gasoline.

Authorization for the flight came last night from Eugene Vidal, director of air commerce, in a telephonic conversation from Washington.

150-175 BUSHEL OF CORN STOLEN

Peace officers in all cities between Circleville and the Ohio river were on the lookout today for a truck, possibly a green one, with dual tires, in connection with theft of 150 to 175 bushels of corn from the farm of C. E. Cromley, Ashville R. F. D. 2.

The truck entered the field from north on Route 23 and left traveling toward the south.

JONES IS RELEASED

Albert Jones, Harrison-twp, who was first arrested for abduction then charged with carrying concealed weapons, was released from the county jail, Friday, after serving 60 days and costs.

"No Relief Truce"—Davey

COLUMBUS, March 15—In a sharply worded public statement, Governor Martin L. Davey today denied emphatically that he is a party to any compromise to end the prolonged relief controversy with Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

"I have offered no compromises for the ample reason that I am standing for certain vital principles and these principles have not changed," the governor said.

"I was greatly disappointed when a resolution (authorizing a legislative investigation of the entire relief situation in Ohio) failed to pass in the senate yesterday after having passed the house almost unanimously."

"Let me repeat, I have had absolutely no power to correct any of the evils and abuses and waste complained of. I decline to remain in a position that forces me to take all the blame which is state-wide in its scope, with no power to correct a single thing."

"I repeat the charge with added emphasis—the relief set-up in Ohio is wasteful, inefficient and many times inhuman, and I decline to be connected with it officially unless these things can be corrected."

"I have never said that the state would not continue the relief program. That matter is up to the legislature. If they wish to tax the people of Ohio to provide the state's portion and thus condone the waste inefficiency and inhuman practices, they have that right."

Referring to newspaper headlines that "the Davey administration has backed down in the relief controversy with the federal government and offered a compromise," the governor indignantly declared:

"These statements are absolutely untrue. The alleged compromise offered was not submitted by myself nor anyone acting for me. Whoever is responsible for it acted on his own initiative and without my knowledge."

"I would pay no attention to the statements if it were not for the fact that the public is entitled to the truth."

FLOOD THREAT IS VOICED BY WEATHER MAN

Two Days of Rain Predicted by Alexander;
Mercury to Climb

MIDDLE WEST IS HIT

Red Cross Called to Render Assistance

COLUMBUS, March 15—The threat of spring floods in Ohio lowland areas became more serious today when U. S. Weatherman W. H. Alexander here predicted two more days of "moderate to heavy" showers for the state.

Fed by three days of the heaviest rains in nearly two years during the past week, many streams in southern Ohio have already left their banks and the big Ohio river was slowly rising to the flood stage at Cincinnati. Crest of the rise there is expected to be between 52 and 53 feet. Flood stage there is 52 feet.

Fears High Water

Alexander said the new rains probably would send "already filled" rivers from their banks in lowland areas, and make conditions in sections now inundated with waters from the last rains more serious.

"It won't be surprising," he said, "if we have some pretty high water."

Accompanying the rains, he said, will be an unusually sharp rise in temperatures. The mercury tomorrow, he said, may go as high as 70 degrees to establish new seasonal records.

Thousands Homeless In Several States

CAIRO, Ill., March 15—Threat of food shortage and possible disease arose today as approximately 10,000 homeless, forced to flee the rampaging flood waters of Mississippi tributaries, sought shelter in southern Illinois, Arkansas and Missouri.

Although a slight recession of the flood was noted in lower Illinois, crumbling levees at McBride, Mo., and Newport, Ark., submerged additional thousands of lowland acres.

Three negroes drowned at Sikeston, Mo., in Little River when a skiff they were riding to safety sank.

A food shortage was reported at Success, a community of 300 persons in northeast Arkansas, menaced by the flood waters of Current and Little Black rivers.

5,000 Families Aided

The Red Cross, after completing a hasty survey of the general flood area, joined with the Federal Emergency Relief administration to give relief to 5,000 families in the three states. Homes of 2,000

CAPONE SERVED IN DUNGEON, REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15—"Scarface" Al Capone, former Public Enemy No. 1, served five days in the dungeon on Alcatraz Island because of a fist fight with a fellow prisoner, according to reports today.

Warden James A. Johnson declined to discuss the reports, saying:

"There are so many rumors current about Al Capone's doings that I refuse to confirm this one. I will merely say that Capone is not now in solitary confinement."

According to the widespread report, the fight occurred in the prison workshop. The prisoner who struck Capone in self-defense is supposed to have broken his own wrist while delivering the blow.

FARM BUREAU TO SUPPORT CERTAIN AAA AMENDMENTS

Pledging the support of Ohio agriculture to certain proposed amendments designed to make the AAA program more effective in maintaining pre-war parity prices for farm products, Murray D. Lingo, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, met with other members of the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation, in Washington, D. C., last Thursday and Friday in an effort to bring about several needed changes in the New Deal's agricultural program.

The principal purpose of the amendments is to make more flexible and effective the program for restoring the buying power of the 50 per cent of the population directly and indirectly dependent upon agriculture. Consideration of this new legislation began before the House Committee on Agriculture in Washington, February 26.

Under the present law the Secretary of Agriculture is required to make a benefit payment to the producer of a commodity when a processing tax is levied on that commodity. The American Farm Bureau Federation and other agricultural groups want this changed so that the revenue from processing taxes may be used to finance the exportation of agricultural surpluses if such a program seems advisable, to develop non-food uses for farm surpluses wherever possible, and to finance a grain acreage adjustment and storage loan program based on warehouse certificates issued to owners of grain stored on the farm.

DRIVE WITH HEAD AS WELL AS HANDS FOR ROAD SAFETY

Safety on the highways, it is pointed out by Highway Director John Jaster, Jr., will come when the motorist learns to use his head as well as his hands, feet and eyes in driving.

More driving skill alone won't protect a motorist no matter if he is the most dexterous operator alive. Combined with luck driving skill may be a life-saver in one or two, perhaps several, narrow shaves but sooner or later—and wham!—it's all over.

Safety in driving, according to Highway Director Jaster, rests between the driver's ears more than in just adroit handling of the car. It goes without saying that a high percentage of traffic fatalities are unnecessary and avoidable.

Many accidents undoubtedly are due to the failure of a large part of the motorists to think. It takes human good sense and intelligence to operate a motor vehicle so that accidents of a damaging nature do not result.

"Think first and then drive," admonishes Mr. Jaster. "Don't depend upon driving skill alone. You may be the best driver on the road but that can't save you if trouble is always arising because you don't use your head."

PLAN TO ASSIST HIGHWAY TRAFFIC VICTIMS PROPOSED

Ohio highway officials are watching with interest the outcome of the movement proposed by Dr. Frederic W. Bancroft, associate professor of clinical surgery at Columbia University, to establish first-aid stations along highways for the treatment of accident victims.

Dr. Bancroft is of the opinion that, although it probably would not be possible at this time to actually build first-aid stations, filling stations could carry first-aid equipment and serve as well.

It is planned, according to Dr. Bancroft, to form a group of medical men in each state to forward this first-aid highway station program within their respective states.

Dr. Bancroft stresses the fact that the frequency of motor car accidents is making necessary the development of some means of caring for victims without having to transport them long distances before receiving first-aid treatment.

Emergency service on this order is furnished in Ohio by the State Highway Patrol. First-aid treatment is administered injured persons on the highways by State Patrolmen. Highway Patrolmen held diplomas in all branches of first-aid work.

The Ohio Department of Highways under whose jurisdiction the State Highway Patrol operates, is working to reduce traffic fatalities.

For Safe Relief from Constipation

Do what your doctor would do

Use a liquid laxative

For your own comfort, and for your children's safety and future welfare, read this:

The bowels cannot be helped to regularly by any laxative that cannot be regulated as to dose. That is why doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually cut down the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly without any help at all. Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never return to any form of help that can't be regulated! The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains both senna and cascara. These are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It relieves a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset.

"Leave the rest to nature"

Give regulated doses of this gentle laxative until Nature restores regularity. Try this!

"Foods you fry with Crisco won't sour on your stomach," advises Mrs. Parascouly

Because CRISCO is the quick-digesting fat

MRS. PARASCOULY'S STORY IN PICTURES

15 YEARS AGO

Yes, back home everybody's cooking with CRISCO. It's a pure creamy fat.

It ought to be digestible. I'll try cooking with it.

CRISCO doesn't give that strong fatty odor when you fry with it. And these doughnuts are so crisp—not a bit greasy!

I sure will. I'm all for CRISCO... you never get sour stomach from anything you fry in CRISCO.

Clip out that page of CRISCO frying recipes, won't you?

CRISCO digests quickly

At the Recent Herald Cooking School, Mrs. George Thurn used and recommended CRISCO, the modern, quick-digesting shortening.

PEACHIES

an easy dessert when fried in digestible Crisco!

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk

1 egg
1 tablespoon melted Crisco
12 canned peach halves
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Crisco for deep frying

Sift dry ingredients. Stir in egg and melted Crisco, beaten together with milk. Drain peaches, sprinkle with lemon juice. Dip into batter and drop into hot Crisco heated to 365°-375° F. or hot enough to brown inch cube of bread in 60 seconds. (Crisco is the pure creamy fat that makes fried food crispy and digestible.) Fry peaches until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot, sprinkled with powdered sugar, or plain with strained honey. Strain Crisco to clear it—save it in its special can for frying. It will keep digestible for many fryings.

CURRY CROQUETTES

crisp and digestible, when fried in Crisco

4 tablespoons Crisco
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup hot milk
2 cups cooked chicken or veal, chopped
1 cup fresh coconut, grated or canned grated coconut
1/2 teaspoon curry
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 egg
1 egg slightly beaten with 2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
Crisco for deep frying

Melt Crisco (the fresh digestible fat) stir in flour, slowly add milk. Cook slowly and stir until sauce thickens. Remove from heat, add meat, coconut and seasonings. Pour into shallow Criscoed pan. Chill thoroughly. Then form into croquettes. Roll in crumbs, then egg mixture, then in crumbs. Fill ordinary flat-bottomed saucepan 3/4 full of melted Crisco (the quick-digesting fat). Heat slowly until Crisco browns inch cube of bread in 40 seconds (375°-385° F.). Fry croquettes golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve plain or with medium-thick white sauce. Strain Crisco—save it to fry with again and again—Crisco keeps digestible.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER PARTY ENJOYED BY SEVENTY

One of the most delightful annual affairs of the Junior Girl Reserves of the high school is their Mother and Daughter banquet, which was enjoyed this year at the American hotel coffee shop, Thursday evening, by approximately seventy members and guests.

Guests included lady members of the faculty and club advisors, Mrs. F. E. Barnhill, Mrs. W. T. Ulm, Mrs. H. G. Stevenson and Mrs. Howard Moore. Miss Marian Hitler is faculty club advisor.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at attractively appointed tables. A rose was given each mother and guest and green and white favors at each cover added to the table decorations, which were carried out in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Louise Helwagen, Rosemary Neuding and Rosemary Metzger were in charge of decorating. Following the dinner hour, Miss Jessie Dresbach, president, gave the welcome address and the remainder of the program, arranged by Betty Lee Nickerson, Alma Holmes and Mary Ellen Maxey, consisted of the following:

Piano solo by June West; accordion duet, "St. Louis Blues," by Ruby Chalfin and Wanita Barnhart; two vocal numbers, "My Mother's Eyes" and "The Isle of Capri," Louise Helwagen; reading, "Pa and Ma," by Helen Sayre, and the entertainment closed with singing of the Girl Reserve song, "Follow the Gleam."

DELEGATES RETURN FROM D. A. R. CONVENTION

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, W. Union-st., and Mrs. Harry Dunlap, of Williamsport, returned Thursday evening after spending the past few days in Cleveland, attending the state convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at Hotel Cleveland, Tuesday through Thursday.

Mrs. Hunsicker, who is finishing her sixth year as state chairman of the student loan fund, having served under two state regents, gave a report at the Wednesday afternoon session. Mrs. Dunlap, as regent of the local D. A. R. chapter, also gave a report.

Mrs. Hunsicker spent part of her time, while in Cleveland, with her daughter, Miss Margie Hunsicker, a student at Western Reserve college school of nursing.

The convention was one of the largest ever held by the organization with 1,000 delegates attending.

Mrs. John Heaume, of Springfield, was named state regent; Mrs. J. S. Donhaue, of Shaker Heights, vice regent; Miss Esther Chance, of Fostoria, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Padgett, of Gallon, recording secretary.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High-st., was also a delegate to the convention from Pickaway Plains chapter, but is not expected home until Friday evening. She was to attend the state assembly of the Daughters of the American Colonists in Akron, Friday.

BUSINESS WOMEN HAVE DINNER AND BUSINESS

The Business and Professional Women's club met, Thursday evening, in the club rooms for a six o'clock dinner followed by a business session.

Plans were completed for the Public Relations dinner to be held Tuesday evening in observance of National Business Women's week beginning, March 18.

Miss Charlotte McEwing, president, was in charge of the session, and read several invitations from neighboring clubs to their public relations dinners. Invitations were received from Athens club, Wednesday evening; Springfield club, Thursday evening, and Columbus club, Thursday evening.

A letter telling of the 1935 state convention to be held in Cincinnati, May 24, 25 and 26 was read, also an invitation from the Nelsonville club to attend its meeting, Sunday, March 24, at which time the club will receive its charter.

MRS. WARD HOSTESS TO LADIES' SOCIETY

Mrs. Lester Ward, Jackson-twp., extended the hospitality of her home, Thursday afternoon, to members of the Ladies' Society of Christ Lutheran church, when they met for their March session. Mrs. Harry Trump was assisting hostess.

Thirty members and guests enjoyed the meeting, which was opened with a devotional service led by Rev. George L. Troutman. The missionary topic on "Modernism," was read by Mrs. George List and contests were conducted by Mrs. Ed Hulise.

Two new members were taken in at this time, Mrs. Wayne Hoover and Mrs. Marvin Rhoades.

During a social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George List, Jackson-twp. who will be assisted by her daughter, Genevieve.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MISS GOOD

Miss Rose Good, of Walnut-twp., entertained the members of her bridge club, Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. George Green, S. Court-st.

Cards were enjoyed at two tables with high score favors going to Mrs. Green and Mrs. Russell Seigwald. Tempting refreshments were served after the game. Miss Elizabeth Drum was a substituting guest.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Carl Beery, E. Franklin-st.

MRS. WILL ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON THURSDAY

A one o'clock luncheon of charming appointments was given Thursday by Mrs. Clark Will at her home on W. Mound-st., when she entertained seven of her friends.

Covers were laid for Mrs. George Banning of Columbus, Mrs. Donald Morris of Chillicothe, Miss Ann Bennett, Mrs. James I. Smith Jr., Mrs. Robert Musser, Mrs. Elster Copeland, Mrs. Lemuel Weldon, and the hostess.

MRS. MILLER HOSTESS TO CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Russell Miller, W. Franklin-st., was hostess to members of her two table bridge club at her home, Thursday evening.

When tallies were added at the close of play, Mrs. Walter Heise, Mrs. Marion Sensenbrenner and Mrs. Guy Pettit received favors.

A dainty salad course was served at the small tables. Mrs. Ralph Crist, Northridge-rd., will entertain the club in two weeks.

SEWING CLUB ENTERTAINED IN KINGSTON THURSDAY

Mrs. Carson Dresbach, of Kingston, pleasantly entertained the members of her sewing club of this city at her home, Thursday afternoon.

The happy hours spent in sewing and the refreshments served at their close were enjoyed by Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. J. Wallace Crist, Mrs. Harry Dresbach, Mrs. Ralph Boggs, Mrs. Charles Smith, this city, and Mrs. Alice Riegel of Kingston.

Mrs. Harry Dresbach, Pickaway-twp., invited the club to meet at her home in two weeks.

Mrs. Eagleton Dunn, of Columbus, who is in a serious condition at her home, was reported, Friday, to be slightly improving. She is a former resident of this city and a sister of Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, W. Union-st.

measure, which would finance the payment with an issue of greenbacks, or whether it will be the Legion-backed Vinson bill, which would leave the method of financing up to the Treasury and thereby presumably raise the money by a bond flotation, is any man's guess.

Because the Vinson bill has the Legion's endorsement the chances favor its enactment.

But one of the bills is certain to be laid on the White House doorstep and the real trial of strength between the President and Congress on the issue will then ensue.

And the contest will be settled—as has been the case in every previous test—in the Senate.

Mrs. Albert Marshall and daughters, Dorothy and Betty, are spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Sollday of Lancaster.

ly for immediate payment of the bonus. Whether two-thirds of the Senate can be rallied to override the President remains to be seen.

Taxi Conversation

Washington's taxi drivers are noted for their gossipy chattiness. But there is one young driver, working his way through law school, who is wondering whether silence is not golden.

Morning after Huey Long's radio reply to General Johnson, he was hailed by a woman who asked to be driven to the Senate Office Building.

"That was some speech the Kingfish made last night," the driver observed.

"Wasn't it," replied his fare pleasantly. "I thought Senator Long made a most excellent talk."

"He sure told the General what was what."

"Didn't he?"

As the woman alighted she said: "Young man, I am Senator Caraway and I want you to know how pleased I am at finding such an intelligent chauffeur."

Returning uptown, the taxi driver was again hailed by a woman who asked to be driven to the House Office Building.

"I sure got a kick out of listening to Huey Long last night," he began.

"I think it disgusting that man should be allowed to talk the way he did," was the cold reply.

"American politics have fallen to a low state indeed."

The driver shifted to a different track.

"It sure looks that way," he said. "But then, all politicians are crooks and I guess Huey is no exception."

These Corners Will Decorate Many Accessories

Crocheted Corners

PATTERN 5322

Can't you imagine how lovely a tea-cloth—a scarf—a luncheon set—a chair back set and many, many more linens would be if decorated with this lovely crocheted corner that looks just like Chumy lace? You can do it in a finer cotton thread—the corner then measures 7-1/2 inches on the longer edge—or in string for a larger corner. The edging makes a handsome finish around the piece decorated. There is a smaller corner, too, for napkins and a medallion to finish up the chair back set. If you want something entirely in crochet you can join the corners to form a square.

Judgment Before Hearing

An Answer to President Roosevelt's Message on the Public Utility Bill

REPLYING to President Roosevelt's message to Congress on March 12, 1935, on the proposed "Public Utility Act of 1935," the Committee of Public Utility Executives have made the following statement:

"In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the President sends a message to Congress today which seeks to pre-judge the case.

"The issues are simple: Shall all public utility holding companies be ruthlessly destroyed without trial or hearing? Shall innocent investors everywhere throughout the country have their investments destroyed to further an untried and utopian scheme of economic reform? Shall we go many steps beyond fair and adequate governmental regulation and put the electric industry of the country completely in the hands of a new bureaucracy at Washington? Shall electric operating companies and the service required by the consumers throughout the country be crippled and demoralized by virtually taking the industry out of the hands of local regulation and of the managers who have been installed by and who are responsible to the investing public which owns the properties?

"The holding company has developed in the public utility field for the same reasons that it developed in other industries and presumably for the same reasons which made it useful to the Government in establishing the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"The President has stated that 'if we would remake our financial history in the light of experience certainly we would have none of this holding company business.'

"That statement apparently eliminates from any further consideration the great achievements made possible by the holding company in every major American industry. Most of the basic products which the American public buys come from holding companies. The corporate names, best known to the public and most representative of high standards are those of holding companies. The destruction of the holding company, as provided in the proposed public utility bill, is no longer a concern for the public utilities alone, but for all industry.

"Moreover, the bill goes further than destruction of the holding company. It is not merely a holding company bill; it is also a bill directed against the operating companies, which so completely limits their powers as to make Federal agencies virtually the managers of the industry.

"The public utilities have opposed this bill because they believe it to be unsound and harmful to both investor and consumer, and contrary to the public interest.

"The right to express opinion, even when opposed to an Administration measure, has not yet been abrogated. The utilities have endeavored honestly to inform investors and the general public as to the disastrous effects of this legislation. According to newspaper reports and the statements of Congressmen, thousands of individuals have written in protest against the bill. We shall continue to urge them to express their opinion frankly and fully.

"The President states that he is as 'unimpressed' by these protests as he was by the similar effort against the Securities Exchange Bill last spring and that 'the Securities Exchange Act is now generally accepted as a constructive measure.' We would respectfully point out that what that Act at all workable was the opposition that developed against the original bill which forced the adoption of drastic changes in the legislation as finally enacted.

"That is all that we are seeking to do in our presentation of the facts before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. We do not object to a fair and constructive bill.

"But we will not be deterred from our purpose in submitting to the Congressional Committees the facts involved in their true light, convinced in the belief that in due time the justice of our opposition will prevail."

HIGH PRESSURE

THERE have been two remarkable instances of attempted pressure upon congressmen, one through letters and telegrams, the other through petitions. The first, of course, was the flood of correspondence the senate members received opposing ratification of the World court membership. The other was the hundreds of petitions bearing hundreds of thousands of names calling for enactment of the Townsend pension plan.

The former may have had its effect, the latter apparently is being ignored. But as least they have focused attention of the congressmen upon this method of seeking to influence legislation, and in both houses the members are examining the sources of inspired correspondence. Actually, this sort of pressure should deceive nobody; above all, a member of congress

When a member finds a hundred or a thousand letters and telegrams on his desk on a given day, he should know at once that some organized, lobbying minority has been at work with SOS calls to local groups back home, that the wording of many of the alleged popular appeals is identical, that, as brought out in the house, signatures often are fictitious and that the entire onslaught has been deliberately framed by some designing person or group with an eye to selfish interest.

In no sense is that sort of thing an expression of the constitutional "right of the people . . . to petition the government for a redress of grievances." While the cooked-up propaganda is flowing in from the comparatively few inspired sources, the vastly majority of the people are going ahead with their daily affairs, almost if not wholly unaware of what the particular minorities are doing. They are looking to their representatives at Washington to speak and act conscientiously for the welfare of all—not for the advantage of the propagandists.

EDICT IN CHINA

TO THE confusion of its interminable revolutions, floods and famines there has been added something really upsetting in China. The officers of the national army have been forbidden by their commander, General Chiang Kai-shek to marry women who bob or curl their hair. The general views the shorn lock, and the twisted one, as detrimental to the health and morals of the country.

The effect has been about what one would expect from an edict so vitally affecting the women of a nation. A chasm miles deep, miles wide, separates two opposing peaks of opinion with the women of Shanghai and Nanking high up on one of them, supporting the general, and the women of Peking and Tientsin high up on the other, opposing him. Reprisals by the latter are planned, even to refusing to marry the officers of the national army and, for those who are married to them, divorcing the luckless warriors.

We doubt if the edict of the general or the reprisal of the northern women will amount to much. Efforts at regulating the dress and customs of women (or even men) by formal order never did amount to much. And as to influencing women against marriage, or into divorce, on so feeble a ground as protest against the ban, we suspect the Chinese damsels have forgotten about it already.

The pure food and drug boys will now retire to a rear seat. Sanitation reaches a new high in cellophane wrappers for income tax returns.

A naturalist reports that mosquitoes can obtain ample nourishment without preying upon human beings. Their summer night attacks upon our anatomies, then, are just an evidence of the natural cussedness of the critters.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Jarvis, professional and stewardess, respectively, of the Pickaway Country club, arrived in Circleville to take charge of the club house.

A meeting was called for the purpose of talking over plans for the recreation hall league schedule for the season. Frank Lynch's Coca Cola won the pennant in 1929.

St. Patrick's day party at the Pickaway Country club attended by a large number of members and guests.

15 YEARS AGO

Protestant churches in Pickaway county organized for united financial campaign. Directors chosen were as follows: Interchurch director, George C. Stout, Circleville; campaign denominational campaign directors, Dr. G. H. Colvill, Presbyterian; Rev. A. B. Cox, United Brethren.

"Credits and Collections" was the subject presented by Edward Sensenbrenner at a meeting of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce. Brief talks were made on the same subject by George H. Fickard, Frank Mason, H. G. Stevenson, T. O. Gilliland, Harley Colvill, W. E. Wallace, J. G. Wilder, R. L. Brehmer and Senet Cryder, Jr.

E. E. Sexaur, manager of the Mykranitz drug store, returned from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where he had been taking treatments for three weeks.

25 YEARS AGO
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bales returned from a ten weeks' trip to Florida, Cuba, and other points.

The annual inspection of Circleville chapter was held at Masonic temple. Three candidates were exalted to the Royal Arch degree. The work was inspected by William E. Evans, Chillicothe, followed by a banquet served by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Harry H. Groce resigned his position as bookkeeper and cashier for C. E. Sears & Co. He was succeeded by Simon Noggle, who had been stenographer for the firm.

GYPSY GIRL

THE STORY OF AN IMPASSIONED ROMANCE

READ THIS FIRST!
Consuelo, a beautiful gypsy girl who longs to dance with all the world at her feet, is loved by the Dumny, a deaf mute, and Marcu. She despises her mother, Anica, but is fond of her father, Girtza. Marcu tempts Consuelo with a huge diamond and she agrees to marry him. Just as Girtza notices Consuelo's ring, which she tells him she has stolen, the sheriff appears. He proceeds to haul the gypsies into court but Consuelo is no longer wearing the ring. When the judge's wife and another woman search her, Consuelo fights them savagely. Meantime Marcu comes into the courtroom and announces he bought the ring.
(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 9

MARCU drew a slip of paper from his shirt and handed it to the judge. The judge looked it over and then again asked the sheriff how big the stone was. George demonstrated by the size of his thumb nail and the judge nodded. He addressed Consuelo.

"Young lady, we must have the ring to prove that it is the same as this man bought." He quivered her look of suspicion. "You may have it back as soon as this man proves it to be the same he bought," he said craftily.

Consuelo turned to Marcu, her eyes wide with question.

"Did you actually buy the ring?" she asked in the language of the gypsies.

"Yes, for you," he answered in the same.

"She reached up under the wide wedding skirt and, utterly unconscious of the necks that craned forward, untied the string that held her bloomers in place and slipped the diamond from it. For a moment she held the cherished ring in her hand and all the fire of her soul crept into response to the beauty of it.

"Hand it to me, girl," the judge broke in upon her thoughts.

Consuelo looked up, the ring clapped between her hands.

"Honest, you'll give it back?" the judge nodded, a smirk on his red face. With a sigh the girl handed him the ring. Eagerly the man examined it. The stone was worth a couple of thousand dollars if a dime!

"You say you bought this ring?" he asked again.

"Yes, didn't I show you I paid for it?" Marcu was becoming impatient. He did not like the feeling of the court room.

The judge rose to his feet.

"Sheriff, arrest that man!" the sheriff leaped forward and before Marcu realized what had happened a pair of handcuffs were on his wrists. The color of his face seemed to darken, his black eyes glared up at the judge.

"What do you mean by this? I said for that ring!"

A contemptuous snort issued from the judge's lips. He picked up the slip of paper Marcu had given him and tore it into bits.

"In the first place, no gypsy would have a receipt, and in the second place, it is ridiculous! You might as well tell me from whom you stole it. We'll get it out of you eventually, do you understand?" George echoed. Marcu's lips curled.

She tore at his face, his hair, his throat.

street that owns the jewelry store," he sneered.

"You mean Abraham Dakis? You stole this ring from Abraham Dakis?"

"Go get him and see if I did," was the terse reply.

The clerk rushed from the room. The excitement grew tense. The court room was a babble of wild conjectures.

Through the noise Consuelo's voice reached him.

"I do not understand all this. But now is the time I must tell you I love you. Remember that, my dear one."

"Consuelo!" His voice was a sob. "Consuelo, my adored!" He made to go to her, but the sheriff's gun was in his ribs. "My adored, my precious one! I would come to you and take you in my arms and kiss your sweet lips but this dog has a gun."

"Keep your mouth shut with that gypsy lingo!"

A few minutes later Abraham Dakis appeared in the court room, his round face flushed. Through his near-sighted eyes, the gypsies and the judge were blurred. He followed the clerk up front and focused his eyes on the judge.

"I've been robbed! The clerk says I have! Oh! Oh!"

"Well, you needn't worry, we have the thief and the diamond in our possession," the judge assured him with unconcealed pride. He pointed to Marcu. "That is the man who robbed your store!"

Dakis stepped close to Marcu and for several seconds scrutinized the dark face. The light left his eyes.

"Why, it is mine gypsy friend," he said in surprise.

"Didn't I buy the ring from you?" Marcu demanded.

"Yes, yes, you did."

The astonished judge leaned forward.

"Mr. Dakis, have you lost your wits? How could that gypsy buy a diamond ring from you?"

Dakis grinned.

"Let me see that ring." He took the ring from the judge and examined it through his near-sighted eyes.

"Yes, yes, it's the same. The gypsy he bought it."

The judge mopped his brow and shook his head with amazement.

"Let me get this straight. You say that fellow bought the ring?"

Dakis nodded. "Well, then the gypsy shows me a receipt for twelve dollars and sixty cents."

"Yes, that's right."

"Are you in your right mind, Mr. Dakis?"

The grin broadened on the little man's face. He gave the ring into the dark, handcuffed hands of Marcu.

He turned to the judge.

"You see, judge, the gypsy he comes to rob me, but I don't want to send such a nice fellow to jail when he got money in his pocket maybe. I'm clever, I am. I think to myself I make some easy money, so I make him pay for the ring I couldn't sell for so long and that was chutrin' up my showcase something awful. In go to her, but the sheriff's gun was in his ribs. I admit it ain't worth even twelve dollars and sixty cents. It ain't worth a dollar even—whole-sale I pay four bits. I'm clever, oh, I'm clever! I make twelve dollars off it when the ring ain't worth nothing—it ain't real—it's only a hunk of glass!" He doubled up with laughter.

There was a wild scream from Consuelo.

"A piece of glass!" she shrieked at Marcu. "You skunk, you dog, you tricked me! A real diamond! You liar! You rat! You beast!" She sprang at him, her finger nails digging into his face. "Twelve dollars and sixty cents! Ah, dog, I'll kill you! A real diamond! Liar! I'll tear out your lying heart! I'll kill you!" She tore at his face, his hair, his throat.

Marcu tried to shake her off, but his shackled hands were useless. She clung to him screaming guttural epithets, her nails digging into his flesh, her fists pounding at his face.

Girtza and the sheriff grabbed the flying fists. The crowd joined in. The judge banged upon his desk. Women were screaming. The men were yelling.

Kicking and shrieking, Consuelo was dragged from Marcu and her arms pinioned behind her. Her mad shriek subsided as quickly as it had sprung up. She turned blindly to her father. Sobbing, she said the words she might have said to him. As they released her, she flung herself into his arms and buried her face against his bright jacket, her body trembling violently.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Marvelous pictures of Colorado's widely publicized Moffat Tunnel are included as one of the highlight dramatic back-grounds of RKO-Radio's newest thriller, "The Silver Streak" now showing at the Cliftona Theatre. This is the famous tunnel which for the first time in history puts Denver on the main line of coast-to-coast rail-ways. After more than twenty years of drilling through the mountains, it was opened recently.

Nation-wide interest has long been centered on the building of the Moffat Tunnel for the reason that it cuts off 175 miles from the length of all the previous coast-to-coast lines.

The Burlington "Silver Streak" America's first Diesel-motored streamline train, had the rare distinction of being the one officially to open the tunnel.

This run was filmed in the picture, for the story of "Silver Streak" revolves around a thrilling sequence wherein the streamline train is interwoven with a drama of modern life which has its climax in a race from Chicago to fall death at Boulder Dam.

Sally Blane, Charles Starrett, Hardie Albright and William Farnum are featured in the photoplay.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

PLAYING FOR TOP SCORE

ONE MIGHT think that identical tactics should be employed in rubber bridge and duplicate bridge. As a matter of practical fact this is not always the case. In duplicate games there is no such thing as bidding to the score. Each hand is in itself an individual match. A few points in rubber bridge usually fail to alter the score, but in duplicate games a few points may mean top score for the hand. The two hands given below illustrate this point.

The above hand appeared in the first session of 8, for the Lochridge Trophy. Fifteen tables contested. An absolute top score on any hand meant 14 match points, as it could be obtained only by defeating the scores of 14 other pairs sitting in the same positions. Two pairs sitting East and West ceased bidding before reaching a small slam. Nine pairs bid small slams at no trumps, and made grand slams. Each of them scored 6 match points. Two pairs bid and made grand slams at no trumps, when not vulnerable. Two pairs bid and made grand slams at clubs, scoring 100 points for honors, which just tied the score at no trumps (1540 points total). Each of the 4 pairs scored 12½ match points.

In another match the above hands of North and South afforded an opportunity for a swing of scores, according to whether hearts or no trumps were played, and the nature of the opening lead. About half the tables played and made 4-Hearts, when vulnerable, yielding a score of 620 points.

Four pairs played 3-No Trumps, with North the declarer. Whether the opening lead was a heart or a spade, 4-odd were scored, the extra trick counting as if it had been bid. This gave a total score of 640 points, thus beating those pairs who bid 4-Hearts.

At two tables South played a contract of 3-No Trumps. One West player made an opening lead of the 5 of diamonds, yielding 4-odd at no trumps. If one table an opening lead of the 3 of clubs yielded 5-odd trumps, when not vulnerable. Two

Blood Pressure Meaning; Why, How It Is Recorded

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

BLOOD PRESSURE is literally nothing more than the pressure exerted on the blood stream to keep it circulating. The body has to get blood to all its distant parts—to the brain, for instance. In order to do so, Nature has provided a pump—the heart—and a set of conduits—the arteries. The heart pumps the blood into the arteries and they convey it to the brain. In order to get there, pressure must be continually exerted upon it. This pressure is derived mostly from the heart. But the arteries being elastic, they maintain pressure on the blood contained within them. This latter factor is the most important one in blood pressure because it gives the necessary even and continuous flow to the stream.

The method of measuring blood pressure is the result of a large number of adaptations, which have taken some time to perfect.

The first experiment on measuring blood pressure was made directly. This was away back in the eighteenth century. An old mare who was due to be slaughtered was fastened to a gate on the ground, her femoral artery opened, and a glass tube inserted directly in the artery. The blood rose to the height of about eight feet, and this was the amount of pressure exerted upon it.

From that day, attempts were made to perfect an apparatus that could be used on human beings. One can see that if an artery is compressed shut, the amount of pressure from the outside needed to compress it will be equal to the pressure maintained on the blood inside the artery. And if compression is made, and released, the amount of pressure needed to open it is exactly the same pressure as that exerted on the column of blood to raise it to eight feet. How can that pressure be measured? The method we now use is to apply a flat rubber bag to the arm so that the rubber will be just over the main artery of the arm. This bag is connected by a tube to a dial which will measure the pressure. Then the bag is pumped full of air until the pressure obliterates the artery. At this point the pulse disappears and the pressure inside the bag is the amount of pressure needed to keep the artery open so as to maintain circulation—in short, the blood pressure. It is recorded on the pressure gauge connected with the bag.

In practice, the pressure is raised until the pulse at the wrist disappears and then the pressure gradually released until the pulse just barely can be perceived. The pressure is recorded in terms of the height a column of liquid will rise in a tube. Any liquid could be used but for convenience we use a heavy oil—mercury.

The average blood pressure of a normal blood pressure—for those under 50, is 120 millimeters of mercury. Such is the systolic pressure—the pressure when the heart is in the contraction stage. The diastolic pressure—when the heart is in the relaxation stage—is about 40 millimeters lower.

Don't wait for a guest dinner to serve this delicious dessert:

Coffee Spanish Cream
One and one half cups strong, freshly made coffee; one and one half cups cream; two tablespoons granulated gelatin; one half cup granulated sugar; one fourth teaspoon salt; three eggs; one teaspoon vanilla.

Blend the cream with the coffee, add gelatin, allow to stand fifteen minutes to soften. Then scald in the upper part of the double boiler. Add sugar and salt to the well beaten egg yolks. Pour the hot mixture slowly over the egg mixture, blending thoroughly. Return to the double boiler, and cook slowly over the hot water keeping the water well below the boiling point. Stir until the mixture coats the spoon and is slightly thickened. Add vanilla. Pour the hot custard over the stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Pour into a mold which has been wet with cold water. Let chill. Serve with whipped cream. Enough for eight.

Chocolate Cream Pie
One cup granulated sugar; two cups milk; one fourth cup flour; one fourth teaspoon salt; two squares unsweetened chocolate; two eggs; one tablespoon butter; one teaspoon vanilla; baked pie shell.

Mix three fourths of the sugar with the flour, salt and add enough milk to make a smooth paste. Melt the chocolate in the top of the double boiler and add the remaining milk gradually. Bring to the scalding point. Add the flour mixture and stir until it thickens; cover and cook ten minutes. Pour gradually over the well beaten egg yolks; return to the double boiler and cook until the egg is set. Remove from the heat, add butter. Cool. Add flavoring and pour into the baked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made by beating the egg whites until stiff and adding the remaining one fourth cup of sugar. Bake fifteen minutes in a low oven, 250 degrees, until brown. Delicious if toasted almonds are laid on the meringue before browning.

What makes pop-overs "pop"? There is no leavening agent in the recipes I have seen.

Pop-overs rise and blow into a hollow puff from the steam and air in the mix. Air is beaten in with the eggs used, and the steam evolved in baking at high temperatures causes the rapid expansion of the air cells. Pop-overs should be baked at a temperature of 400 or 450 degrees for the first 15 minutes, then the temperature reduced to about 250 degrees for an additional 30 to 45 minutes to dry out the moisture.

Do you have a recipe for Green Gage Ice or Sherbet? I would appreciate a recipe to add to my file as the flavor is a favorite one.

The recipe suggested is a cream sherbet. Its smoothness makes it particularly successful when frozen in an automatic refrigerator.

Green Gage Cream Sherbet
12 green gage plums; canned 1/4 C. powdered sugar
1/2 C. plum juice
1/2 C. white corn syrup
1 C. heavy cream
Few grains of salt

Drain plums and reserve 1/2 C. of the juice. Rub stoned plums through a coarse strainer. Add powdered sugar and stir until dissolved. Combine the plum juice, corn syrup and salt. Blend well, add to plum and sugar mixture, and allow to stand for a few minutes. Add unbeaten cream in a thin stream, stirring gently all the time. Pour at once into refrigerator tray and freeze quickly. Makes 1 quart.

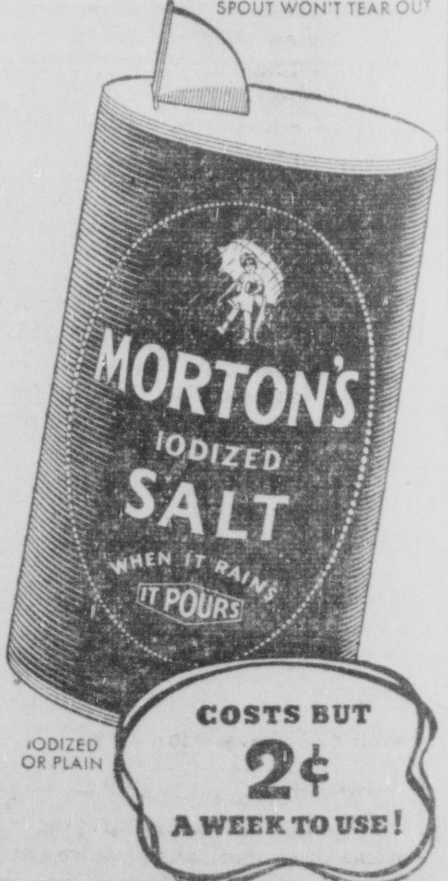

Will you please give me information about making mints, and would you tell me what flavors and colors should be used together?

Candy mints, the round flat discs, are made from a fondant recipe after the fondant has ripened and aged for about 24 hours.

Use 3 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons white corn syrup and 1 1/2 cups of boiling water. Mix together, being sure the sugar is dissolved before the syrup reaches the boiling point. Cook the syrup to the soft ball stage (235 degrees) in about 20 minutes. Pour into a warm, shallow baking dish and cool to about 104 degrees. Beat the fondant until it is creamy, then knead.

After it has aged for 24 hours, melt a small quantity of the fondant in a shallow pan over hot water. Add coloring and color desired. White ones may be peppermint flavored; pink, wintergreen flavored; green ones may be flavored to suit your individual taste. Chocolate may also be used. Drop a teaspoon full of melted fondant onto waxed paper. If the candy is of the proper consistency, the mint will spread out into a disc about the size of a 25-cent piece.

AN INEXPENSIVE LUNCHEON
Open piping hot baking powder biscuits of good size. Place on the lower half two links of cooker sausage—cover with other half of biscuit and pour over all nicely creamed peas.

BISCUITS
5 tablespoons shortening
3 cups flour
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cup milk

Chop shortening finely into sifted dry ingredients. Add milk, toss on board—cut—place in greased pan. Bake in 400 degrees oven about 15 minutes. This amount will make 10 biscuits, cut the size of a doughnut cutter.

CREAMED PEAS
Select a good brand of canned peas. Heat in liquid 1 can peas drain all but about 1-2 cup of liquid off; season well with salt, pepper and butter and add 1 cup of top milk or thin cream. Thicken To cover the above biscuits double this amount.

ORANGE DROP COOKIES
1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sour milk
1/2 cup orange juice
4 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda

Blend shortening, sugar and eggs together. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the liquid. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in 375 degrees oven ten minutes. Ice when cool—makes about five dozen cookies.

ICING
Combine one box powdered sugar the grated rind and juice of one orange. These will be a great favorite with the children.

BROWNIE PEAR SALAD
Use the smaller canned pears. Between two halves put all seasoned creamed cheese, press the halves together and roll in toasted crushed macaroon crumbs. Arrange attractively on lettuce and serve with your favorite salad dressing.

TIGERS LOSE TO SOUTH HI

23-21 SCORE IN OVERTIME

"Quick Death" Rules Results In Circleville Ouster From Tourney

Surprising their most ardent followers, the Tigers of Circleville high school forced Columbus South high into an overtime period before losing, Thursday evening, in the Central district class A basketball tournament. The score was 23-21.

The Tigers were victims of the "quick death" system put in effect for this tournament wherein the first team scoring two points in an overtime period is immediately declared the winner. Tapia, South captain and forward, batted in a follow shot to win for Coach Chick Pearce's team.

Other central district games resulted in the following scores:

Aquinas, 20; West, 10.
Grandview, 23; Lancaster, 13.
North, 28; Marion, 19.
Mt. Vernon, 24; Bexley, 14.
Central, 25; Westerville, 23, overtime.
East, 26; Delaware, 21.

Tapia was South's star while Johnny Jenkins did most of the Tigers' scoring. The South flash scored five goals from the field and one free throw; Jenkins got three from action and two from the free throw line.

The defeat eliminates the Tigers from the tourney.

HAVE SPEECH—READY IF YOU VISIT MacPHAIL

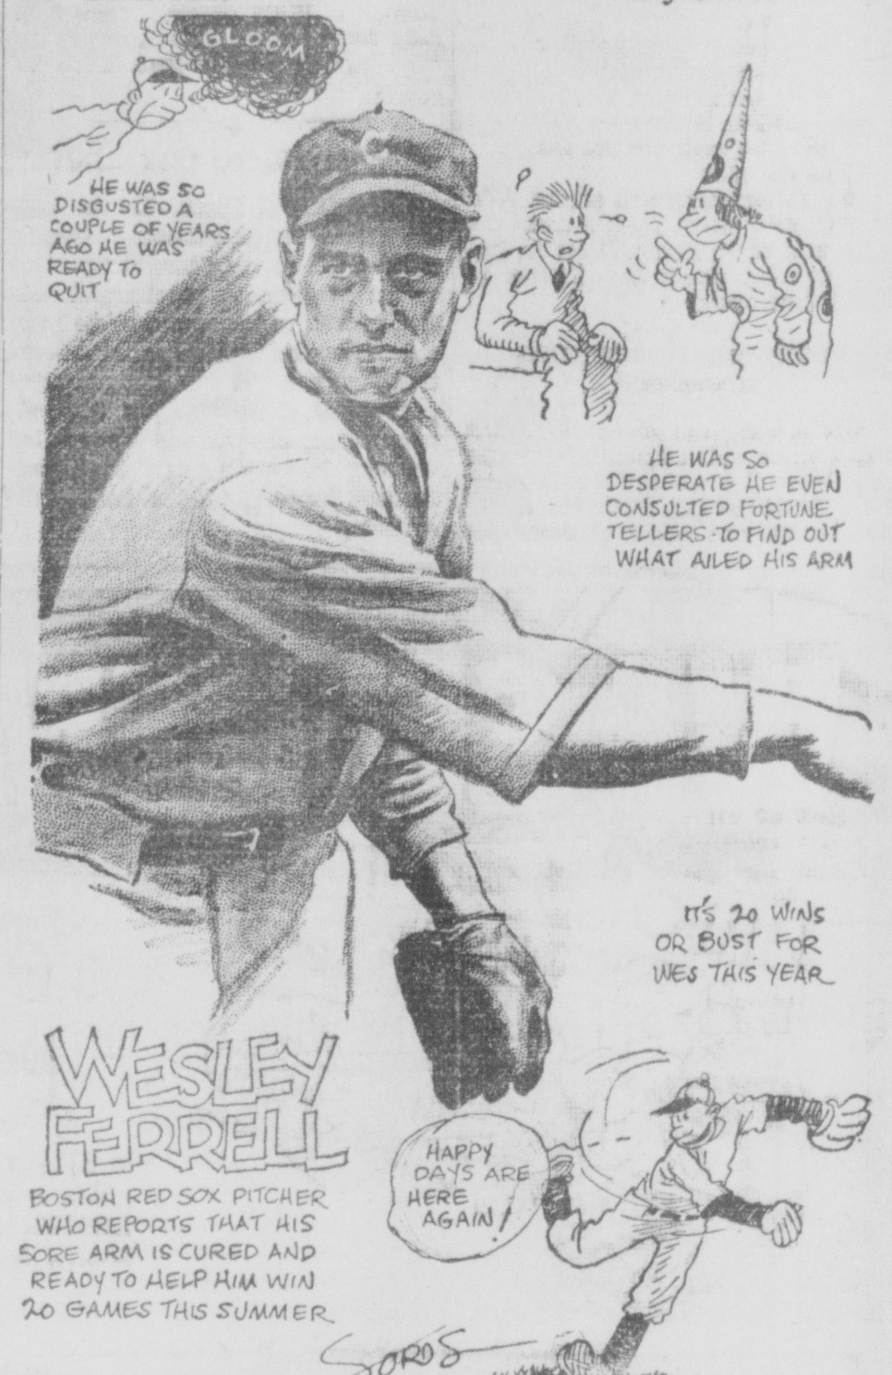

Larry MacPhail, CINCINNATI, March 15—Larry MacPhail, vice president of the Reds is stirring the fans to action as baseball's opening day nears. He broadcasts daily from his office, telling the fans about the Red's young and coming ball club.

Whenever a player or prominent visitor drops into MacPhail's office, Larry hands him the microphone and says, "Speak up."

It is a result of MacPhail's campaign that Cincinnati becomes the first major league city to take up night baseball.

Ashville Teams Honored As 150 Attend Banquet

Ashville's basketball teams, girls and boys who won the county championship and boys who went through their county schedule undefeated only to lose in the tournament, were honored Thursday evening when a banquet was conducted in the school gymnasium.

Superintendent Carl E. Higley acted as toastmaster and did a good job of it.

The banquet, which consisted of chicken and all the trimmings winding up with a plate filled with ice cream and cake, was splendidly served by ladies of the Parent-Teachers association. About 150 persons participated.

Honor was paid to Coaches Stella Morrison and Al Kauber and to the players. Letters were given to nine girls and a manager, and to seven boys, a manager and a cheer-leader. The awards were made by the coaches who make a short talk before presenting them.

Charlotte Reese, captain of this year's team, was especially honored by her coach, Miss Reese was a regular for four years, three of them as guard and one as forward, was on the Herald all-county team all four years and in her final year was named captain.

The entire first girls' team except Myra Wagner, guard, graduates.

The boys' team loses James Scoles, Henry Steinbrook and Charles Baker.

Short talks were made during the evening by G. D. McDowell, superintendent of schools; Glen Geib, managing editor of The Herald; Coaches Morrison and Kauber; George Morrison, attorney; Dr. C. J. Rocky, president of the board of education, and Clyde Brinker, Ashville merchant. Several of the athletes including Charlotte and Pauline Reese and Henry Steinbrook and James Scoles also responded at the request of the toastmaster.

Music was furnished by a high school orchestra.

Tables, chairs and decorated paper on which was printed names of the players and coaches was provided by E. F. Schlegel while decorations were furnished by Hott, florist.

COURT MEETS NEARING END

Greenfield Shows Class Ousting Portsmouth; Chillicothe Whips Marietta

COLUMBUS, March 15—One by one, the 70 class A high school basketball teams fighting for the eight places in the statewide finals here next week-end were being picked off today by stronger opponents in the district meetings in eight cities in the state.

Those who have dropped from the running since the meets started are Youngstown Rayen, Salem Youngstown South, Warren, Cathedral Latin, Girard, Conneaut, Portsmouth, Athens, Zanesville, Bridgeport, Newcomerstown, Bowling Green, Port Clinton, Marion, Columbus West, Lancaster, Bexley, Circleville, Delaware, East Liverpool, Delphos, Pomeroy and Marietta.

Favorites Listed

Some of the stronger Class A teams appeared to be Toledo Woodward, Canton McKinley, Dover, Greenfield McClain, Hillsboro, Coshocton, Lima Central, Tiltonsville, and Akron West.

Waterloo, defending champions in the Class B division, in which 52 schools are vying for the eight places in the finals here, was still riding high, wide and handsome with an impressive 42 to 8 victory over Murray City.

Some of the Class A scores reported from scattered cities include:

Central district: Columbus Aquinas, 20; Columbus West, 10; Grandview 32; Lancaster 13; Columbus North 28; Marion Harding 19; Columbus South 23; Circleville 21 (overtime); Mt. Vernon 24; Bexley 14; Columbus Central 25; Westerville 23 (overtime); Columbus East 26; Delaware 21.

Eastern District: Coshocton 33; Bridgeport 24; Toronto 50; Newcomerstown 30; Tiltonville 31; Zanesville 28; Dover 24; East Liverpool 18.

Northwestern district: Lima Central 23; Bowling Green 17; Delphos St. John 23; Delphos Jefferson 22; Toledo Woodward 34; Port Clinton 30.

Southeastern district: Greenfield McClain 16; Portsmouth 12; Hillsboro 15; Pomeroy 12; Gallipolis 16; Athens 14; Chillicothe 27; Marietta 12.

Northeastern District: Akron Central 22; Cathedral Latin 16; Elyria 33; Girard 24; Akron West 38; Conneaut 20; Youngstown Chaney 25; Wadsworth 21.

Among those eliminated were two finalists last year, Zanesville and Youngstown Rayen.

BILL MYERS FAST

TAMPA, Fla., March 15—Manager Charley Dressen knew today just how fast his Cincinnati Reds were on their feet after staging a series of foot races yesterday when the Yankees outmaneuvered the regulars with the exception of Bill Myers. The shortstop tied with Lee Handley, college boy from Peoria, in running from home to third base in the fast time of 10.4 seconds. In the battery division, June Barnes, a soupaw, did the distance in 11 seconds to win and second and third money was split between Francis Wistert, recruit pitcher, and Catcher Pencock, formerly of the Toronto club.

HALE TAKES THIRD

NEW ORLEANS, March 15—A shift in the left side of the Cleveland Indians infield loomed today as Arvel (Bad News) Hale continued to patrol the third base corner. He was at second last year but Manager Walter Johnson hoped that Boze Berger, former University of Maryland athlete, could hold down the second sack. Although neither Hale or Berger have been hitting well to date it was believed in the camp that Johnson would allow the second-third combination to stand until the opening of the season at least.

hand and foot, has confessed that his "ransom kidnapping" was a hoax. Chief of Police Howard L. Boyd announced today.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 15—Chester Hyde, 21-year-old high school student, who was kidnapped Monday in Colonia, N. J., near here, was found bound and gagged in a secluded section of Rockford park early today.

Hyde told police and federal agents, who had been conducting an exhaustive hunt for him, that he had been held captive by a woman and two men in a Philadelphia boarding house.

The trio overpowered him in Colonia on Monday night while he was enroute from his home to his high school in Rahway, N. J., and took him to Philadelphia, he said.

Last night, the youth related, he was brought to Wilmington in an automobile, bound and gagged, and dumped from the car in the park.

The youth said he was unable to account for his kidnapping.

The youth was unharmed, except for bruises incurred when he was flung from the automobile.

Finding of the night school student ended an intensive and widespread police search that began in earnest Wednesday when his stepfather, William Lella, received a letter demanding the $10,000 ransom and threatening death to young Hyde, unless the money was delivered.

Receipt of the ransom letter was confirmed by New Jersey state police only a few hours after the boy was found in the park here.

The letter, it was disclosed, was preceded by two anonymous telephone calls informing the youth's stepfather that Chester was "all right" and telling Lella to await instructions.

more families lay in the path of the swelling St. Francis river in Arkansas and southeast Missouri.

The Red Cross was taking special precautions to guard against disease among the refugees.

Upwards of 100,000 acres of bottomland was under water. The Missouri Mingo basin district lay beneath a murky lake of swirling water 24 miles long.

Volunteers in boats continued the work of rescuing marooned families from upper stories of homes and barns, carrying the homeless to safety.

ADAMS ON LIST

COLUMBUS, March 15—Secretary of State George S. Myers has officially recognized Louis Adams as chairman of the Franklin-co Democratic executive committee.

maker in addition to his remarks of appreciative interest in the state's conservation program. He is the author of the bill creating the Muskingum conservancy district for flood control. Mr. Bittinger brought personal greeting from Governor Martin L. Davey to the members of the organization, and paid a high tribute to those who are making an organized effort to further the entire program of conservation and the propagation and protection of game.

A. L. Holl, engineer-inspector of the Department of Public Works, referred briefly to the work being done at the canal dam and stated that it is possible to extend the program to make this spot not only a place for fishing but a general recreation park as well, with the erection of a shelter house, providing parking places, a bathing beach, picnic grounds, etc.

Other visitors who were introduced by the master of ceremonies included Fred P. Elsass, clerk of the House of Representatives; Al Kalb, chairman of the fish and game committee of the House; Grover Traxler, member of the fish and game committee; Robert F. Kaser, chairman of the general section of the finance committee of the House; F. O. Kugle, engineer, Department of Public Works, State Senator August W. Weber, Columbus; J. F. Atwood, Columbus; Clark W. Hunsicker, member of the legislature from Pickaway-co; Renick W. Dunlap; and J. E. Meekstroth, editor of the Ohio State Journal.

The introductions occasioned quite a bit of levity and repartee between the master of ceremonies and guests, much to entertainment of the audience.

All Are Thanked

President Betz closed the meeting with a brief review of the organization's activities. He thanked the Elks for the use of the club rooms, the members for their interest and attendance, the various committees and officers for the splendid efforts to make the annual affair a success, and asked for a rising vote of thanks and appreciation to Charles T. Gilmore, manager, and the Southern Ohio Utilities Co., for donating the use of machinery, trucks and equipment in the construction of the canal dam.

President Betz urged that all sportsmen purchase their hunting and fishing licenses through some member of the Pickaway Farmers' and Sportsmen's association, as the 25-cent fee allowed for issuing each license would be turned over to the association to be used for the purchase of game, in the distribution of fish, etc.

Prior to the program of speeches, the audience was entertained with musical selections. Mrs. J. D. Bragg sang a group of selections, playing her own accompaniment on the accordion, and Marion Sensenbrenner sang a number of songs with Carl Palm as piano accompanist.

SEEKING PENALTY IN NUMBER GAME

COLUMBUS, March 15—Safety Director W. S. Pealer is seeking to have the maximum penalty handed a number of persons arrested in connection with the "number game" racket here.

PATTERN 9323

Simple little sleeves—but what a difference they make! The way they scoop over the shoulders and form the side neckline is both new and flattering. This frock, with the fineness of design found in expensive models, needs only a beautiful material to make it one of Spring's outstanding frocks—it may be a large dot on a white or pastel ground, or a bouquet or garden print, but it should be colorful and chosen with an eye to harmonizing various accessories with it. Care, too, should be exercised in the selection of buttons and belt, that they may add to the chic of the dress.

Pattern 9323 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/8 yards 36 inch fabric.

BILL IN CONGRESS IS BOON TO STATE POTATO GROWERS

A potato bill proposed in Congress which would include potatoes under the AAA as a basic commodity, should prove a decided boon to Ohio potato growers, in the opinion of W. E. Stough, trustee of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, and president of the Ohio Vegetable Growers' Association.

"Although the proposed control program does not include reduction or benefit payments, it permits the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate and decide the size of crops to be sold," the farm bureau official states, "which should operate to bring the price to farmers up to a pre-war purchasing parity."

Under the bill, the annual allotment to each state will be based on the annual average acreage for the three years in which the highest acreage was planted. State committees will then make allotments to each county, and county committees will allot to individual growers.

"I personally believe that this piece of legislation will greatly benefit Ohio potato growers because of its restriction on producers of other basic commodities who have shifted into the production of potatoes," Stough declared. "There is no doubt in my mind that controlled production will not only afford us better prices, but that it will also give us more leisure time to spend in other pursuits on the farm."

SPORTSMEN OF COUNTY FEAST, ENJOY EVENING

Bittinger, Pfeiffer, Other Notables Attend Annual Meeting

BROWN IS CHAIRMAN

More Than 300 are Served Red Snapper

The annual meeting and banquet of the Pickaway Farmers' and Sportsmen's association, held in the Elks club rooms Thursday night, was one of the most successful and enjoyable affairs in the history of the organization. More than 300 members and guests were in attendance, all sections of Pickaway being represented in addition to a number from adjoining counties and a large delegation of notables from Columbus.

The fish dinner prepared and served by members of the association was all that could be desired, and the committee in charge was highly complimented for the excellence of the repast.

Immediately following the banquet the members and guests assembled in the lodge room where an exceptionally interesting program was presented. H. E. Betz, president of the association, extended a cordial welcome to the members and guests and introduced the master of ceremonies, E. A. Brown. During Mr. Brown's preliminary remarks he introduced a number of guests from a distance, some of whom appeared later on the program of impromptu remarks.

Activities Reviewed

Fred C. Clark, prominent member of and active worker in the organization, read a splendid paper which gave a review of the activities of the association for the past year. He paid a splendid tribute to the president, H. E. Betz, for his untiring efforts in behalf of the sportsmen and the program outlined for the year, to all officers and the committees, and also to Clarence Francis, local game protector, for his splendid co-operation. Mr. Clark gave a brief resume of the activities of the organization in starting work on the dam on the old canal, south of the city, which will provide a place of recreation for all residents of the county. The work is now well under way, and the organization is making plans for further improvements at this recreation center.

Fred Harlow, district law enforcement officer in charge of 11 counties, gave some interesting information relative to the conservation work being carried on throughout the district, and Paul Gunthrup, publisher of the Sportsman's Magazine, followed with a few remarks concerning the work being carried on through publicity channels.

Henry J. Pfeiffer, of Kenton, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, was introduced and briefly touched on conservation work in general that is being carried on throughout the state, commending very highly the work that is being done by sportsmen's organizations.

The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. J. Freer Bittinger, speaker of the House of Representatives, who humorously related some of his experiences as a lawbreaker.

BANK ELECTS NEW CASHIER

Reichelderfer Begins Duties Today; Niles Chosen As New Director

N. E. Reichelderfer, E. Franklin-st., former resident of Ashville and Tarlton, started his duties today as cashier of the Circleville Savings and Banking Co., filling the vacancy left by the death of Joseph R. Noecker, who had held that position many years.

Mr. Reichelderfer was elected at a meeting of directors of the institution Wednesday afternoon. Five other persons, who were not named sought the position.

Miss Katharine Mead and Orwell Barr, who served with Mr. Noecker, were elected early in the year to serve as other employees of the bank.

Charles M. Niles, of Jackson-twp was elected a member of the board of directors of the institution. He will fill the place left vacant by Mr. Noecker's death.

Mr. Reichelderfer has had much experience in the banking business and should prove an efficient official. He served for several years in the state banking department in addition to having experience in an Ashville bank. He also taught school.

NEGRO CONFESSES DELAWARE MURDER

Ora Slater Announces Man, Formerly On Radio, Admits Slaying Merchant

DELAWARE, Mar. 15—Ora Slater, famous Cincinnati detective who is credited with solving the Jake Nesbitt murder case at Troy and the Don Mellett slaying at Canton, today announced that he had obtained a confession from Webb Scott, 27, a negro, in connection with the killing of W. A. Wilson, aged clothing store owner here last Feb. 9.

Scott admitted, Slater said, that he had hit Wilson with a heavy window sash weight when the latter caught him in the basement of the Wilson home. The negro claimed he had been stealing fruit, according to the purported confession and did not know when he struck Wilson that it had been a death blow.

23 LUMBERMEN MEET AND TALK BUSINESS

Twenty-three lumbermen of district No. 4 of the State Lumberman's association met at the Boggs' hotel, Thursday evening, for their monthly session.

The business meeting was preceded by a dinner at 6:30. Alfred Lee was host.

Arthur Slagel, of Greenfield, chairman of the district, was in charge of the business transactions.

PASTOR IS SPEAKER

Rev. Newton Mantle of the Mt. Sterling M. E. church, was much enjoyed in his address at the Pickaway-co Ministerial association meeting Thursday when he used the subject "Maintaining the Spiritual Glow."

DEATH CLAIMS D. C. MACKLIN

Well Known Saltcreek-twp Man Succumbs Thursday Afternoon

Daniel Clifton Macklin, 52, died Thursday at 12:30 p. m. at his home in Saltcreek-twp following a week's illness of pneumonia.

He is survived by his widow, Hazel Kathryn Macklin, three sons, David of Rockbridge R. F. D., George and Robert at home and one daughter, Mary Ann at home.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Adelphi M. E. church with burial in Green Summit cemetery by H. E. Deffenbaugh, and Son.

BOXER SUICIDES IN BARBER SHOP

BALTIMORE, March 15—Walter Dodson, amateur boxer, walked into the village barber shop here last night, waved to acquaintances and announced: "Well boys, I don't think I will be here long."

He then drew a revolver and shot and killed himself, authorities said.

RAIN AIDS CROP OF WINTER WHEAT

COLUMBUS, Mar. 15—A "tremendous improvement" in the winter wheat crop in Ohio was predicted today by Dr. H. C. Ramsower, head of the agriculture extension bureau at Ohio State university, as the result of recent rains.

Additional rains, he said, would "even better the outlook."

The downpours also will help to restore underground water supplies and make up for the deficiency in rainfall during the drought last summer he added.

Spring plowing has started in many sections, he pointed out, and the overturned ground will help to soak up the water that would otherwise run off.

"Prospects for wheat because of the rains are very encouraging," he said.

HUEY CHALLENGED BY 'COWBOY SOLON'

WASHINGTON, March 15—Senator Huey Long, "share the wealth" crusader, was challenged today to disclose his own wealth to the nation.

Rep. P. H. Gassaway (D) of Oklahoma, the "cowboy congressman" said he would make the demand in a nationwide radio speech attacking Long's program.

"If he isn't in the employ of money barons, where does he get the money to maintain his 'standee army'?" said Gassaway, referring to Long's bodyguard.

Gassaway, said 15 members of congress were collaborating on the speech in which he intends to assail Long.

POST SPEEDING HIGH IN AIR ON RECORD FLIGHT

Famed Airman Hopes to Reach New York in Seven Hours' Time

LEAVES AT 9 A. M.

Plane May Reach 5-miles-a-Minute Speed

UNION AIR TERMINAL, Los Angeles, March 15—Hoping to reach New York in seven hours, or less Wiley Post hopped off here at 7:15 a. m. (EST) today on his second attempted stratosphere flight.

Post's stratosphere plane, the "Winnie Mae" in which he has twice circled the globe fairly leaped into the air after a short run, and it had hardly cleared the ground before Post released his landing gear.

The Lockheed plane, powered with a 550 horsepower Pratt-Whitney supercharged wasp motor, climbed rapidly and in a few seconds was lost to view in the hazy eastern sky.

After waiting most of the night for a pea-soup fog which had shrouded the airport to clear, Post, shortly before 9 a. m., was helped into his specially designed stratosphere suit, in which he resembles a mythical "man from Mars."

The "Winnie Mae" was wheeled onto the field and warmed up. Post said he planned to climb to the sub-stratosphere as rapidly as possible, while heading eastward in an almost direct line, which will take him over Pueblo, Colo., near Omaha, Neb., about 100 miles south of Chicago, and into New York by way of Columbus, Ohio.

5 Miles Minute
The plane, as it is equipped, is expected to average more than five miles per minute in the rarified upper atmosphere.

FORMER MEMBER OF CONGRESS, 82, DIES

Albert Douglas, Who Served 11th District 1907-1911, Dies In Capital

CHILLICOTHE, March 15—His many friends here today were mourning the death of Albert Douglas, 82, another of her illustrious sons, who died early Thursday in Washington, D. C. of infirmities.

Mr. Douglas has been living in Washington since his retirement from congress where he served as representative of the 11th Ohio district for two terms succeeding the late General Charles H. Grosvenor of Athens.

The former solon graduated from Harvard law school in 1874 and in the early 70's was elected prosecutor. In 1889 he was a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket but was unsuccessful.

He was elected to congress in 1907 and again in 1909.

He served for many years as a director of the First National bank and was active in St. Paul's Episcopal church.

He is survived by two children a brother and sister.

C. M. HUBER HURT

C. M. Huber, 357 E. Ohio-st., suffered an injured back at 10 a. m. Friday while he was helping lift a porch at the rear of his residence. Dr. E. R. Austin was called to render aid.

"No Relief Truce"—Davey

COLUMBUS, March 15—In a sharply worded public statement, Governor Martin L. Davey today denied emphatically that he is a party to any compromise to end the prolonged relief controversy with Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

"I have offered no compromises for the ample reason that I am standing for certain vital principles and these principles have not changed," the governor said.

"I was greatly disappointed when a resolution (authorizing a legislative investigation of the entire relief situation in Ohio) failed to pass in the senate yesterday after having passed the house almost unanimously."

REYNOLDS FORTUNE SET AT $27,975,000

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., March 15—The fortune of Zachary Smith Reynolds, mysteriously slain young heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions, today amounts to $27,975,000. B. S. Womble, attorney for the Reynolds family, told the Forsyth-co superior court today.

The fortune consisting principally of stock in the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company, has increased in value by nearly five million dollars since young Reynolds died of a bullet through his head, fired from his own gun, at his beautiful estate here July 6, 1932.

CRITES, REID LEASE MILL

Latter Named Manager of Haynes Mill at Waverly; To Handle Grain

H. M. Crites and Ray P. Reid have leased the C. E. Haynes flour feed and grain mill from Charles E. Haynes and Son, Corbett, of Waverly, and have taken possession.

The mill has been leased for two years with Reid, who has been in the brokerage business here, acting as manager. He has been in the grain business since 1921.

The lease includes everything at the mill property except a feed lot which has been retained by the owners for feeding cattle and hogs.

Mr. Haynes and his son will devote their time to the timber and farming business. They have about 1700 acres of timber which they expect to cut up for lumber.

The Waverly Republican Herald says the following concerning the transaction:

"The Haynes have successfully operated the mill for the past twenty years. During that period they have done a tremendous business, selling their products mostly in Kentucky and West Virginia. In the last few years they have limited their operations to the buying and selling of grain only, having done away with their flour and feed business."

"Mr. Crites and Mr. Reid come to Waverly highly recommended. Mr. Crites has been in the grain and flour business since 1890 and is considered the leading grain dealer in central Ohio. He owns several mills and canning factories near Circleville and the local institutions will furnish him an opportunity of purchasing much grain in the southern part of the state."

"At the present, they will deal in grain only but a little later on, when business conditions improve, they hope to start the flour and feed mills operating again."

PRESIDENT'S SENIOR SECRETARY SERIOUS

WASHINGTON, March 15—Louis McH. Howe, senior secretary to President Roosevelt, was seriously ill at the White House today.

Never robust, Howe has been in ill health for some time, and his illness was aggravated by a cold contracted when he accompanied the President to Boston three weeks ago.

Dr. Ross McIntyre, White House physician, diagnosed his condition as due to bronchial trouble supplemented by cardiac weakness.

The truck entered the field from north on Route 23 and left traveling toward the south.

FARMER IMPROVES

C. D. Valentine, of near Amanda regained consciousness, Thursday, after being kicked under the chin by a horse at his home, Tuesday.

He is well known in this county and friends will be glad to learn that he is resting better Friday.

JONES IS RELEASED

Albert Jones Harrison-twp, who was arrested for abduction today charged with carrying concealed weapons, was released from the county jail Friday, after serving 60 days and costs.

FLIES "Robot" Plane

After piloting the new mystery plane of the department of commerce out to sea from Oakland, Cal., Capt. Clayton Bissell, above, pilot, declared the test satisfactory. Secrets of the plane were guarded from newspapermen but it was learned the flight was to test an automatic compass enabling a pilot instantly to determine his position and fly to his destination by means of signals from a radio transmitter on ship or land.

STORM DELAYS ROBOT FLIGHT

Government's Mystery Ship Grounded; To Attempt Hawaiian Journey

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., March 15—A storm sweeping in from the Pacific caused postponement of the projected takeoff early today of the government's mysterious robot plane, the NC223Y, on a "blind" radio compass direct flight to Hawaii.

At 1 a. m. Capt. Clayton Bissell, army aviator, and Major Chester Snow, department of commerce aviation expert, appeared in night attire in the lobby of airport inn and announced:

"Weather conditions early this morning will not be favorable for radio compass flying. There will be no flight this morning and future operations are to be delayed pending favorable weather."

Capt. Bissell then issued orders to return the huge twin-motored low-winged Douglas plane to his hangar. The big plane had been wheeled from its hangar last night and loaded with a capacity of 1590 gallons of gasoline.

Authorization for the flight came last night from Eugene Vidal, director of air commerce, in a telephone conversation from Washington.

FLOOD THREAT IS VOICED BY WEATHER MAN

Two Days of Rain Predicted by Alexander; Mercury to Climb

MIDDLE WEST IS HIT

Red Cross Called to Render Assistance

COLUMBUS, March 15—The threat of spring floods in Ohio lowland areas became more serious today when U. S. Weatherman W. H. Alexander here predicted two more days of "moderate to heavy" showers for the state.

Fed by three days of the heaviest rains in nearly two years during the past week, many streams in southern Ohio have already left their banks and the big Ohio river was slowly rising to the flood stage at Cincinnati. Crest of the rise there is expected to be between 52 and 53 feet. Flood stage there is 52 feet.

Fears High Water

Alexander said the new rains probably would send "already-rifled" rivers from their banks in lowland areas, and make conditions in sections now inundated with waters from the last rains more serious.

"It won't be surprising," he said, "if we have some pretty high water."

Accompanying the rains, he said, will be an unusually sharp

SCIO TO STILL LOWER

The Scioto river was gradually receding today and was at the six-foot mark this morning, Dr. Clarke reported.

rise in temperatures. The mercury tomorrow, he said, may go as high as 70 degrees to establish new seasonal records.

Thousands Homeless In Several States

CAIRO, Ill., March 15—Threats of food shortage and possible disease arose today as approximately 10,000 homeless, forced to flee the rampaging flood waters of Mississippi tributaries, sought shelter in southern Illinois, Arkansas and Missouri.

Although a slight recession of the flood was noted in lower Illinois, crumbling levees at McBride, Mo., and Newport, Ark., submerged additional thousands of lowland acres.

Three negroes drowned at Sikeston, Mo., in Little River when a skiff they were riding to safety sank.

A food shortage was reported at Success, a community of 300 persons in northeast Arkansas marooned by the flood waters of Current and Little Black rivers.

CAPONE SERVED IN DUNGEON, REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, March 15—"Scarface" Al Capone, former Public Enemy No. 1, served five days in the dungeon on Alcatraz Island because of a fist fight with a fellow prisoner, according to reports today.

Warden James A. Johnson declined to discuss the reports, saying:

"There are so many rumors current about Al Capone's doings that I refuse to confirm this one. I will merely say that Capone is not now in solitary confinement."

According to the widespread report, the fight occurred in the prison workshop. The prisoner who struck Capone in self-defense is supposed to have broken his own wrist while delivering the blow.

NRA Omits Text Report Of Research Planning Division to Senators

WASHINGTON—Members of the Senate Finance Committee, now investigating the NRA, have decided that hereafter they will demand original copies of NRA reports.

Reason: Senators have discovered that under the Blue Eagle there are reports—and reports.

On the opening day of the probe, "Assistant President" Don Richberg was asked to furnish the committee with copies of the NRA Research and Planning Division report.

This is the document which, among other things, declared:

That while payrolls in December, 1934, were only about 60 per cent of the total in 1926, dividends and interest were 150 per cent of their total in 1926; that code fixed minimum wages showed a marked tendency to become maximum; that 40 per cent of the workers employed under codes are working more than 40 hours a week; that the big industries in general were allowed to fix the lowest minimum pay scales and that the NRA is costing the country $55,000,000 a year to operate.

The next morning bound copies of the report were handed each Senator.

But when several of them began poring through the document they found it consisted almost entirely of bewildering charts, graphs and tabulations.

All the damning textual matter mentioned above was mysteriously missing.

When challenged on the deletions by Alabama's Senator Hugo Black, Richberg insisted that the submitted copies were no different from the original.

"We just left out some of the discursive language," he said. "I should say you did," shot back Black. "That 'discursive' language is exactly what we want to see. Please see that we get it."

Richberg promised to get him an original copy—if one was available.

Pink Elephant

Young, liberal Vito Marcantonio, successor to the seat held in the House for many years by Mayor LaGuardia, is the recipient of a unique decoration.

He has had bestowed on him the Order of the Pink Pachyderm.

Donor is his fellow-crusader Maury Maverick of Texas, grandson of a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence and himself the wearer of distinguished medals: the Silver Star and the Purple Heart won on the battle fields in France.

Maverick decorated his colleague with the following citation:

By virtue of the power vested in me as a gentleman, (I am a gentleman according to the rules of the House) I do hereby present to the gentleman, (according to the rules of the House) Mr. Vito Marcantonio the following:

ONE PINK PACHYDERM

Forasmuch as the said Marcantonio is an off-color Republican, to-wit, a Liberal, a sincere friend of the people, and believes in following the Constitution of the United States wherein it is said there shall be Liberty of Speech, Press, Conscience and Religion, and a worthy successor to Fiorello LaGuardia, the said Marcantonio shall hereinafter be known and designated as:

THE PINK PACHYDERM OF CONGRESS.

The Question

The fate of the bonus issue this session revolves about only one question:

Can the backers of the legislation muster sufficient support to override the veto of the President?

Congress is certain to pass a bonus bill.

FARM BUREAU TO SUPPORT CERTAIN AAA AMENDMENTS

Pledging the support of Ohio agriculture to certain proposed amendments designed to make the AAA program more effective in maintaining pre-war parity prices for farm products, Murray D. Ligon, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, met with other members of the board of directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Washington, D. C., last Thursday and Friday in an effort to bring about several needed changes in the New Deal's agricultural program.

The principal purpose of the amendments is to make more flexible and effective the program for restoring the buying power of the 50 per cent of the population directly and indirectly dependent upon agriculture. Consideration of this new legislation began before the House Committee on Agriculture in Washington, February 26.

Under the present law the Secretary of Agriculture is required to make a benefit payment to the producer of a commodity when a processing tax is levied on that commodity. The American Farm Bureau Federation and other agricultural groups want this changed so that the revenue from processing taxes may be used to finance the exportation of agricultural surpluses if such a program seems advisable, to develop non-food uses for farm surpluses whenever possible, and to finance a grain acreage adjustment and storage loan program based on warehouse certificates issued to owners of grain stored on the farm.

For Safe Relief from Constipation

Do what your doctor would do

Use a liquid laxative

For your own comfort, and for your children's safety and future welfare, read this:

The bowels cannot be helped regularly by any laxative that cannot be regulated as to dose. That is why doctors and hospitals use a liquid laxative.

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually cut down the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving

Dr. Caldwell's

"Leave the rest to nature" regularly without any help at all. Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never return to any form of help that can't be regulated! The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains both senna and cascara. These are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It relieves a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset.

Give regulated doses of this gentle laxative until Nature restores regularity. Try this!

NONSENSE

DRIVE WITH HEAD AS WELL AS HANDS FOR ROAD SAFETY

Safety on the highways, it is pointed out by Highway Director John Jaster, Jr., will come when the motorist learns to use his head as well as his hands, feet and eyes in driving.

More driving skill alone won't protect a motorist no matter if he is the most dexterous operator alive. Combined with luck driving skill may be a life-saver in one or two, perhaps several, narrow shaves but sooner or later—and whom?—it's all over.

Safety in driving, according to Highway Director Jaster, rests between the driver's ears more than in just adroit handling of the car. It goes without saying that a high percentage of traffic fatalities are unnecessary and avoidable.

Many accidents undoubtedly are due to the failure of a large part of the motorists to think. It takes human good sense and intelligence to operate a motor vehicle so that accidents of a damaging nature do not result.

"Think first and then drive," admonishes Mr. Jaster. "Don't depend upon driving skill alone. You may be the best driver on the road but that can't save you if trouble is always arising because you don't use your head."

PLAN TO ASSIST HIGHWAY TRAFFIC VICTIMS PROPOSED

Ohio highway officials are watching with interest the outcome of the movement proposed by Dr. Frederic W. Bancroft, associate professor of clinical surgery at Columbia University, to establish first-aid stations along highways for the treatment of accident victims.

Dr. Bancroft is of the opinion that, although it probably would not be possible at this time to actually build first-aid stations, filling stations could carry first-aid equipment and serve as well.

It is planned, according to Dr. Bancroft, to form a group of medical men in each state to forward this first-aid highway station program within their respective states.

Dr. Bancroft stresses the fact that the frequency of motor car accidents is making necessary the development of some means of caring for victims without having to transport them long distances before receiving first-aid treatment.

Emergency service on this order is furnished in Ohio by the State Highway Patrol. First-aid treatment is administered injured persons on the highways by State Patrolmen. Highway Patrolmen held diplomas in all branches of first-aid work.

The Ohio Department of Highways under whose jurisdiction the State Highway Patrol operates, is working to reduce traffic fatalities.

"Foods you fry with Crisco won't sour on your stomach," advises Mrs. Parascouly

Because CRISCO is the quick-digesting fat.

Mrs. John Parascouly learned about Crisco from her mother-in-law about 15 years ago. "She told me then that Crisco wasn't greasy, and better for the digestion," says Mrs. Parascouly, "and that appealed to me. Now I use it for cakes, pies and especially for frying, and I never have greasy food that disagrees and causes sour stomach. With a growing family to keep healthy, I certainly think that it pays to use Crisco, the pure, quick-digesting fat."

MRS. PARASCOULY'S STORY IN PICTURES

15 YEARS AGO

Yes, back home everybody's cooking with CRISCO. It's a pure creamy fat.

It ought to be digestible. I'll try cooking with it.

CRISCO doesn't give that strong fatty odor when you fry with it. And these doughnuts are so crisp—not a bit greasy!

NOW

I sure will. I'm all for CRISCO... you never get sour stomach from anything you fry in CRISCO.

PEACHES
an easy dessert when fried in digestible Crisco

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk

1 egg
1 tablespoon melted Crisco
12 canned peach halves
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Crisco for deep frying

Sift dry ingredients. Stir in egg and melted Crisco, beaten together with milk. Drain peaches, sprinkle with lemon juice. Dip into batter and drop into hot Crisco heated to 375-375°F. Do not crowd. Fry until golden brown (about 10-15 seconds). Crisco is the pure creamy fat that makes fried food crisp and digestible. Fry peaches until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot, sprinkle with powdered sugar, or plain with strained juice. Strain Crisco to clear it—use it in its special can for frying. It will keep digestible for many fryings.

CURRY CROQUETTES
crisp and digestible, when fried in Crisco

4 tablespoons Crisco
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups cooked chicken
or veal, chopped
1 cup fresh coconut, grated or canned grated coconut
½ teaspoon every
½ teaspoon salt

¼ teaspoon paprika
1 egg slightly beaten with
2 tablespoons water
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
Crisco for deep frying

Mix Crisco, the fresh digestible fat, stir in flour, slowly add milk. Cook slowly and stir until sauce thickens. Remove from heat, add meat, coconut and seasonings. Pour into shallow Criscoed pan. Chill thoroughly. Then form into croquettes. Roll in breadcrumbs, then in flour. Fry in Crisco. Fry ordinary flat-bottomed croquette in 10 seconds (375-385°F.). Fry croquettes, golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve plain or with medium-thick white sauce. Strain Crisco, save it to fry with again and again—Crisco keeps digestible.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER PARTY ENJOYED BY SEVENTY

One of the most delightful annual affairs of the Junior Girl Reserves of the high school is their Mother and Daughter banquet, which was enjoyed this year at the American hotel coffee shop, Thursday evening, by approximately seventy members and guests.

Guests included lady members of the faculty and club advisers, Mrs. F. E. Barnhill, Mrs. W. T. Uhm, Mrs. H. G. Stevenson and Mrs. Howard Moore. Miss Marian Hiller is faculty club advisor.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at attractively appointed tables. A rose was given each mother and guest and green and white favors at each cover added to the table decorations, which were carried out in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Louise Helwag, Rosemary Neudling and Rosemary Metzger were in charge of decorating. Following the dinner hour, Miss Jessie Dresbach, president, gave the welcome address and the remainder of the program, arranged by Betty Lee Nickerson, Alma Hosley and Mary Ellen Maxey, consisted of the following:

Piano solo by June West; accordion duet, "St. Louis Blues," by Ruby Chalfin and Wanita Barnhart; two vocal numbers, "My Mother's Eyes" and "The Isle of Capri," Louise Helwag; reading, "Pa and Ma," by Helen Sayre, and the entertainment closed with singing of the Girl Reserve song, "Follow the Gleam."

DELEGATES RETURN FROM D. A. R. CONVENTION

Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, W. Union-st., and Mrs. Harry Dunlap, of Williamsport, returned Thursday evening after spending the past few days in Cleveland, attending the state convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at Hotel Cleveland, Tuesday through Thursday.

Mrs. Hunsicker, who is finishing her sixth year as state chairman of the student loan fund, having served under two state regents, gave a report at the Wednesday afternoon session. Mrs. Dunlap, as regent of the local D. A. R. chapter, also gave a report.

Mrs. Hunsicker spent part of her time, while in Cleveland, with her daughter, Miss Margie Hunsicker, a student at Western Reserve college school of nursing.

The convention was one of the largest ever held by the organization with 1,000 delegates attending.

Mrs. John Heaume, of Springfield, was named state regent; Mrs. J. S. Donahue, of Shaker Heights, vice regent; Miss Esther Chance, of Fostoria, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Padgett, of Gallon, recording secretary.

Mrs. Orion King, W. High-st., was also a delegate to the convention from Pickaway Plains chapter, but is not expected home until Friday evening. She was to attend the state assembly of the Daughters of the American Colonists in Akron, Friday.

BUSINESS WOMEN HAVE DINNER AND BUSINESS

The Business and Professional Women's club met, Thursday evening, in the club rooms for a six o'clock dinner followed by a business session.

Plans were completed for the Public Relations dinner to be held Tuesday evening in observance of National Business Women's week beginning, March 18.

Miss Charlotte McEwing, president, was in charge of the session, and read several invitations from neighboring clubs to their public relations dinners. Invitations were received from Athens club, Wednesday evening; Springfield club, Thursday evening, and Columbus club, Thursday evening.

A letter telling of the 1935 state convention to be held in Cincinnati, May 24, 25 and 26 was read, also an invitation from the Nelsonville club to attend its meeting, Sunday, March 24, at which time the club will receive its charter.

MRS. WARD HOSTESS TO LADIES' SOCIETY

Mrs. Lester Ward, Jackson-twp., extended the hospitality of her home, Thursday afternoon, to members of the Ladies' society of Christ Lutheran church, when they met for their March session. Mrs. Harry Trump was assisting hostess.

Thirty members and guests enjoyed the meeting, which was opened with a devotional service led by Rev. George L. Troutman.

The missionary topic on "Modernism," was read by Mrs. George List and contests were conducted by Mrs. Ed Hulise.

Two new members were taken in at this time, Mrs. Wayne Hoover and Mrs. Marvin Rhoades. During a social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George List, Jackson-twp. who will be assisted by her daughter, Genevieve.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS WITH MISS GOOD

Miss Rose Good, of Walnut-twp., entertained the members of her bridge club, Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. George Green, S. Court-st.

Cards were enjoyed at two tables with high score favors going to Mrs. Green and Mrs. Russell Seigwald. Tempting refreshments were served after the game. Miss Elizabeth Drum was a substituting guest.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Carl Beery, E. Franklin-st.

MRS. WILL ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON THURSDAY

A one o'clock luncheon of charming appointments was given Thursday by Mrs. Clark Will at her home on W. Mound-st., when she entertained seven of her friends.

Covers were laid for Mrs. George Banning of Columbus, Mrs. Donald Morris of Chillicothe, Miss Ann Bennett, Mrs. James I. Smith Jr., Mrs. Robert Musser, Mrs. Elster Copeland, Mrs. Lemuel Weldon, and the hostess.

MRS. MILLER HOSTESS TO CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Russell Miller, W. Franklin-st., was hostess to members of her two table bridge club at her home, Thursday evening.

When tallies were added at the close of play, Mrs. Walter Heise, Mrs. Marion Sensenbrenner and Mrs. Guy Pettit received favors.

A dainty salad course was served at the small tables.

Mrs. Ralph Crist, Northridge-rd., will entertain the club in two weeks.

SEWING CLUB ENTERTAINED IN KINGSTON THURSDAY

Mrs. Carson Dresbach, of Kingston, pleasantly entertained the members of her sewing club of this city at her home, Thursday afternoon.

The happy hours spent in sewing and the refreshments served at their close were enjoyed by Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. J. Wallace Crist, Mrs. Harry Dresbach, Mrs. Ralph Boggs, Mrs. Charles Smith, this city, and Mrs. Alice Riegel of Kingston.

Mrs. Harry Dresbach, Pickaway-twp., invited the club to meet at her home in two weeks.

Mrs. Eagleton Dunn, of Columbus, who is in a serious condition at her home, was reported, Friday, to be slightly improving. She is a former resident of this city and a sister of Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, W. Union-st.

measure, which would finance the payment with an issue of greenbacks, or whether it will be the Legion-backed Vinson bill, which would leave the method of financing up to the Treasury and thereby presumably raise the money by a bond flotation, is any man's guess.

Because the Vinson bill has the Legion's endorsement the chances favor its enactment.

But one of the bills is certain to be laid on the White House doorstep and the real trial of strength between the President and Congress on the issue will then ensue.

And the contest will be settled—as has been the case in every previous test—in the Senate.

The House is overwhelming.

BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Members of her two table bridge club were guests of Miss Hilda Thomas, Circleville-twp., Thursday evening, when she entertained at her home.

Taxi Conversation

Washington's taxi drivers are noted for their gossipy chattiness. But there is one young driver, working his way through law school, who is wondering whether silence is not golden.

Morning after Huey Long's radio reply to General Johnson, he was hailed by a woman who asked to be driven to the Senate Office Building.

"That was some speech the Kingfish made last night," the driver observed.

"Wasn't it," replied his fare pleasantly. "I thought Senator Long made a most excellent talk."

"He sure told the General what was what,"

"Didn't he?" As the woman alighted she said: "Young man, I am Senator Caraway and I want you to know how pleased I am at finding such an intelligent chauffeur."

Returning uptown, the taxi driver was again hailed by a woman who asked to be driven to the House Office Building.

"I sure got a kick out of listening to Huey Long last night," he began.

"I think it disgusting that man should be allowed to talk the way he did," was the cold reply. "American politics have fallen to a low state indeed."

The driver shifted to a different tack.

"It sure looks that way," he said. "But then, all politicians are crooks and I guess Huey is no exception."

Can't you imagine how lovely a tealoch—a scarf—a luncheon set—a chair back set—and many, many more linens would be if decorated with this lovely crocheted corner that looks just like Cluny lace? You can do it in a finer cotton thread—the corner then measures 7 1/2 inches on the longer edge—or in string for a larger corner. The edging makes a handsome finish around the piece decorated. There is a smaller corner too, for napkins and a medallion to finish up the chair back set. If you want something entirely in crochet, you can join the corners to form a square.

Judgment Before Hearing

An Answer to President Roosevelt's Message on the Public Utility Bill

REPLYING to President Roosevelt's message to Congress on March 12, 1935, on the proposed "Public Utility Act of 1935," the Committee of Public Utility Executives have made the following statement:

"In order to offset the rising tide of protest which is coming from hundreds of thousands of investors in public utilities from all over the country, and before we have had an opportunity to offer any defense or objections to this bill, the President sends a message to Congress today which seeks to pre-judge the case.

"The issues are simple: Shall all public utility holding companies be ruthlessly destroyed without trial or hearing? Shall innocent investors everywhere throughout the country have their investments destroyed to further an untried and utopian scheme of economic reform? Shall we go many steps beyond fair and adequate governmental regulation and put the electric industry of the country completely in the hands of a new bureaucracy at Washington? Shall electric operating companies and the service required by the consumers throughout the country be crippled and demoralized by virtually taking the industry out of the hands of local regulation and of the managers who have been installed by and who are responsible to the investing public which owns the properties?

"The holding company has developed in the public utility field for the same reasons that it developed in other industries and presumably for the same reasons which made it useful to the Government in establishing the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"The President has stated that 'if we would remake our financial history in the light of experience certainly we would have none of this holding company business.'

"That statement apparently eliminates from any further consideration the great achievements made possible by the holding company in every major American industry. Most of the basic products which the American public buys come from holding companies. The corporate names, best known to the public and most representative of high standards are those of holding companies. The destruction of the holding company, as provided in the proposed public utility bill, is no longer a concern for the public utilities alone, but for all industry.

"Moreover, the bill goes further than destruction of the holding company. It is not merely a holding company bill; it is also a bill directed against the operating companies, which so completely limits their powers as to make Federal agencies virtually the managers of the industry.

"The public utilities have opposed this bill because they believe it to be unsound and harmful to both investor and consumer, and contrary to the public interest.

"The right to express opinion, even when opposed to an Administration measure, has not yet been abrogated. The utilities have endeavored honestly to inform investors and the general public as to the disastrous effects of this legislation. According to newspaper reports and the statements of Congressmen, thousands of individuals have written in protest against the bill. We shall continue to urge them to express their opinion frankly and fully.

"The President states that he is as 'unimpressed' by these protests as he was by the similar effort against the Securities Exchange Bill last spring and that 'the Securities Exchange Act is now generally accepted as a constructive measure.' We would respectfully point out that what made that Act at all workable was the opposition that developed against the original bill which forced the adoption of drastic changes in the legislation as finally enacted.

"That is all that we are seeking to do in our presentation of the facts before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. We do not object to a fair and constructive bill.

"But we will not be deterred from our purpose in submitting to the Congressional Committees the facts involved in their true light, convinced in the belief that in due time the justice of our opposition will prevail."

2 Good, Simple Desserts For Family and Friends

Don't wait for a guest dinner to serve this delicious dessert:

Coffee-Spanish Cream
One and one half cups strong, freshly made coffee; one and one half cups cream; two tablespoons granulated gelatin; one half cup granulated sugar; one fourth teaspoon salt; three eggs; one teaspoon vanilla.

Blend the cream with the coffee, add gelatin, allow to stand fifteen minutes to soften. Then scald in the upper part of the double boiler. Add sugar and salt to the well beaten egg yolks. Pour the hot mixture slowly over the egg mixture, blending thoroughly. Return to the double boiler and cook slowly over the hot water keeping the water well below the boiling point. Stir until the mixture coats the spoon and is slightly thickened. Add vanilla. Pour the hot custard over the stiffly beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Pour into a mold which has been wet with cold water. Let chill. Serve with whipped cream. Enough for eight.

Chocolate Cream Pie
One cup granulated sugar; two cups milk; one fourth cup flour; one fourth teaspoon salt; two squares unsweetened chocolate; two eggs; one tablespoon butter; one teaspoon vanilla; baked pie shell.

Mix three fourths of the sugar with the flour, salt and add enough milk to make a smooth paste. Melt the chocolate in the top of the double boiler and add the remaining milk gradually. Bring to the scalding point. Add the flour mixture and stir until it thickens; cover and cook ten minutes. Pour gradually over the well beaten egg yolks; return to the double boiler and cook until the egg is set. Remove from the heat, add butter. Cool. Add flavoring and pour into the baked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made by beating the egg whites until stiff and adding the remaining one fourth cup of sugar. Bake fifteen minutes in a low oven, 250 degrees, until brown. Delicious if toasted almonds are laid on the meringue before browning.

AN INEXPENSIVE LUNCHEON

Open piping hot baking powder biscuits of good size. Place on the lower half two links of cooker sausage cover with other half of biscuit and pour over all nicely creamed peas.

BISCUITS

5 tablespoons shortening
3 cups flour
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cup milk
Chop shortening finely into sifted dry ingredients. Add milk, toss on board—cut—place in greased pan. Bake in 400 degrees oven about 15 minutes. This amount will make 10 biscuits, cut the size of a doughnut cutter.

CREAMED PEAS

Select a good brand of canned peas. Heat in liquid 1 can peas drain all but about 1-2 cup of liquid off; season well with salt, pepper and butter and add 1 cup of top milk or thin cream. Thicken to cover the above biscuits double this amount.

ORANGE DROP COOKIES

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sour milk
1/2 cup orange juice
4 1/2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
Blend shortening, sugar and eggs together. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the liquid. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in 375 degrees oven ten minutes. Ice when cool—makes about five dozen cookies.

ICING

Combine one box powdered sugar the grated rind and juice of one orange. These will be a great favorite with the children.

BROWNIE PEAR SALAD

Between two halves put all seasoned creamed cheese, press the halves together and roll in toasted crushed macaroni crumbs. Arrange attractively on lettuce and serve with your favorite salad dressing.

ROLLED CHEESE SANDWICHES

Cut the crusts from sliced bread. Spread with butter then with grat-

What makes pop-overs "pop"? There is no leavening agent in the recipes I have seen.

Pop-overs rise and blow into a hollow puff from the steam and air in the mix. Air is beaten in with the eggs used, and the steam evolved in baking at high temperatures causes the rapid expansion of the air cells. Pop-overs should be baked at a temperature of 400 or 450 degrees for the first 15 minutes, then the temperature reduced to about 250 degrees for an additional 30 to 45 minutes to dry out the moisture.

Do you have a recipe for Green Gage Ice or Sherbet? I would appreciate a recipe to add to my file as the flavor is a favorite one.

The recipe suggested is a cream sherbet. Its smoothness makes it particularly successful when frozen in an automatic refrigerator.

Green Gage Cream Sherbet
12 green gage plums—canned
1 C. powdered sugar
1 C. cream
1 C. white corn syrup
1 C. heavy cream
Few grains of salt
Drain plums and reserve 1/2 C. of the juice. Rub stoned plums through a coarse strainer. Add powdered sugar and stir until dissolved. Combine the plum juice, corn syrup and salt. Blend well, add to plum and sugar mixture, and allow to stand for a few minutes. Add unbeaten cream in a thin stream, stirring gently all the time. Pour at once into refrigerator tray and freeze quickly. Makes 1 quart.

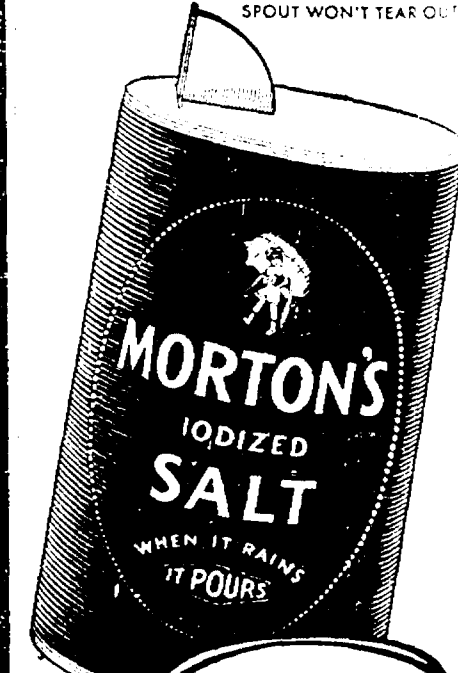

Will you please give me information about making mints, and would you tell me what flavors and colors should be used together?

Candy mints, the round flat discs, are made from a fondant recipe after the fondant has ripened and aged for about 24 hours.

Use 3 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons white corn syrup and 1 1/2 cups of boiling water. Mix together, being sure the sugar is dissolved before the syrup reaches the boiling point. Cook the syrup to the soft ball stage (235 degrees) in about 20 minutes. Pour into a warm, shallow baking dish and cool to about 104 degrees. Beat the fondant until it is creamy, then knead.

After it has aged for 24 hours, melt a small quantity of the fondant in a shallow pan over hot water. Add flavoring and color desired. White ones may be peppermint flavored; pink, wintergreen flavored; green ones may be flavored to suit your individual taste. Chocolate may also be used. Drop a teaspoon full of melted fondant onto waxed paper. If the candy is of the proper consistency, the mint will spread out into a disc about the size of a 25-cent piece.

ed yellow cheese. Roll like a jelly roll. Put open side down on a pan and toast under oven burner. Delicious with salad or with afternoon tea.

BLUEBERRY PUDDING

1 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
1 pint blueberries
1/2 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend shortening, sugar and egg together. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Fold in the berries. Bake in 8-inch square pan in 375 degree oven about 35 minutes. Serve with Creamy Sauce.

CREAMY SAUCE

1/2 cup fat
1 2/3 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup thick cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg (well beaten)
Cream fat and sugar together. Add cream, egg and flavoring.

AIR CASTLES

1 tablespoon shortening
1 cup water
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
Have water boiling hot in pan. Add shortening, flour and salt all at once and stir until mixture is like paste and leaves side of pan. When partly cool add eggs one at a time, beating hard after each egg has been added until mixture is perfectly smooth. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat about 35 degrees. Fry slowly until puffy and brown.

TIGERS LOSE TO SOUTH HI

23-21 SCORE IN OVERTIME

"Quick Death" Rules Results In Circleville Ouster From Tourney

Surprising their most ardent followers, the Tigers of Circleville high school forced Columbus South high into an overtime period before losing, Thursday evening, in the Central district class A basketball tournament. The score was 23-21.

The Tigers were victims of the "quick death" system put in effect for this tournament wherein the first team scoring two points in an overtime period is immediately declared the winner. Tapia, South captain and forward, battled in a follow shot to win for Coach Chick Pearce's team.

Other central district games resulted in the following scores: Aquinas, 20; West, 10. Grandview, 23; Lancaster, 13. North, 28; Marion, 19. Mt. Vernon, 24; Westville, 14. Central, 25; Westerville, 23, overtime.

East, 26; Delaware, 21. Led Through Game After the first period which ended 4 to 2 in South's favor, the Tigers took a lead which they did not lose until the game was over. They were ahead 14-10 at the end of the half and had a 16-14 lead at the three-quarter mark; then came a tie score and defeat in the overtime.

Tapia was South's star while Johnny Jenkins did most of the Tigers' scoring. The South flash scored five goals from the field and one free throw; Jenkins got three from action and two from the free throw line.

The defeat eliminates the Tigers from the tourney.

Ashville Teams Honored As 150 Attend Banquet

Ashville's basketball teams, girls and boys who went through their county schedule undefeated only to lose in the tournament, were honored Thursday evening when a banquet was conducted in the school gymnasium.

Superintendent Carl E. Higley acted as toastmaster and did a good job of it.

The banquet, which consisted of chicken and all the trimmings winding up with a plate filled with ice cream and cake, was splendidly served by ladies of the Parent-Teachers association. About 150 persons participated.

Honor was paid to Coaches Stella Morrison and Al Kauber and to the players. Letters were given to nine girls and a manager, and to seven boys, a manager and a cheer-leader. The awards were made by the coaches who make a short talk before presenting them. Charlotte Reese, captain of this year's team, was especially honored by her coach, Miss Reese was a regular for four years, three of them as guard and one as forward, was on the Herald all-county team all four years and in her final year was named captain.

The entire first girls' team except Myra Wagner, guard, graduates. The boys' team loses James Scoles, Henry Steinbrook and Charles Baker. Short talks were made during the evening by G. D. McDowell, superintendent of schools; Glen Gehl, managing editor of The Herald; Coaches Morrison and Kauber; George Morrison, attorney; Dr. C. J. Rokey, president of the board of education, and Clyde Brinker, Ashville merchant. Several of the athletes including Charlotte and Pauline Reese and Henry Steinbrook and James Scoles also responded at the request of the toastmaster. Music was furnished by a high school orchestra. Tables, chairs and decorated paper on which was printed names of the players and coaches were provided by E. F. Schlegel while decorations were furnished by Hett, Florist.

Doyle Wins Prize Jimmy Doyle in the Cleveland Plain Dealer's Sport Trail has the prize crack of the day: "Mr. Davey's argument with Mr. Hopkins in this column understands it, boils down to the question of who's going to pick the relief pitchers for Ohio—and why."

Tourney Favorites? Water out for Canton McKinley, Greenfield McClain, Akron Central, West or South, Coshocton and Dover, Lima Central or Toledo Woodward in the state tourney. The Waterloo team again appears the class of the state B level. Lowellville, of near Youngstown, dropped from the race Thursday losing to Mayfield at Kent. The Lowellville team had a great record for the season. Waterloo's latest victim was beaten by about 35 points.

COLUMBUS, March 15—One by one, the 70 class A high school basketball teams fighting for the eight places in the statewide finals here next week-end were being picked off today by stronger opponents in the district meetings in eight cities in the state.

Those who have dropped from the running since the meets started are Youngstown Rayen, Salem Youngstown South, Warren, Cathedral Latin, Girard, Conesut, Portsmouth, Athens, Zanesville, Bridgeport, Newcomerstown, Bowling Green, Port Clinton, Marion, Columbus West, Lancaster, Bexley, Circleville, Delaware, East Liverpool, Delphos, Pomeroy and Marietta.

Favorites Listed Some of the stronger Class A teams appeared to be Toledo Woodward, Canton McKinley, Dover, Greenfield McClain, Hillsboro, Coshocton, Lima Central, Tiltonsville, and Akron West.

Waterloo, defending champions in the Class B division, in which 52 schools are vying for the eight places in the finals here, was still riding high, wide and handsome with an impressive 42 to 8 victory over Murray City.

Some of the Class A scores reported from scattered cities include:

Central district: Columbus Aquinas 20, Columbus West, 10; Grandview 23, Lancaster, 13; Columbus North 28, Marion Harding 19; Columbus South 23, Circleville 21 (overtime); Mt. Vernon 24, Bexley 14; Columbus Central 25, Westerville 23 (overtime); Columbus East 26, Delaware 21.

Eastern district: Coshocton 33, Bridgeport 24; Toronto 50, Newcomerstown 30; Tiltonville 31; Zanesville 28; Dover 24, East Liverpool 18.

Northwestern district: Lima Central 23, Bowling Green 17; Delphos St. John 23, Delphos Jefferson 22; Toledo Woodward 34, Port Clinton 30.

Southeastern district: Greenfield McClain 16, Portsmouth 12; Hillsboro 15, Pomeroy 12; Gallipolis 16, Athens 14; Chillicothe 27, Marietta 12.

Northeastern district: Akron Central 22, Cathedral Latin 16; Elyria 33, Girard 24; Akron West 38, Conesut 20; Youngstown Chaney 25, Wadsworth 21.

Among those eliminated were two finalists last year, Zanesville and Youngstown Rayen.

BILL MYERS FAST

TAMPA, Fla., March 15—Manager Charley Dressen knew today just how fast his Cincinnati Reds were on their feet after staging a series of foot races yesterday when the Yannis outan the regulars with the exception of Bill Myers. The shortstop tied with Lee Handley, college boy from Peoria, in running from home to third base in the fast time of 10.4 seconds. In the battery division, June Barnes, a southpaw, did the distance in 11 seconds to win and seconds and third money was split between Francis Wistler, overcut pitcher and Catcher Deacock, formerly of the Toronto club.

HALE TAKES THIRD

NEW ORLEANS, March 15—A shift in the left side of the Cleveland Indians infielder loomed today as Arvel (Bud) Hale continued to patrol the third base corner. He was at second last year but Manager Walter Johnson hoped that Boze Berger, former University of Maryland athlete, could hold down the second sack. Although neither Hale or Berger have been hitting well to date it was believed in the camp that Johnson would allow the second-third combination to stand until the opening of the season at least.

These Inexpensive Ads Will Buy and Sell For You

The CIRCLEVILLE HERALD and THE UNION-HERALD CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Circleville Herald style of type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.

Advertising orders for irregular insertion rates take the one-time rate. No ad is taken for less than a basis of three lines. Count five average words to the line on paid advertisements.

Charged ads will be received by telephone, and if paid at Circleville Herald office within six days from the first day of insertion cash rate will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three or seven times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared, and adjustment made at the rate earned. All ads ordered seven times will be published in the Union-Herald (Weekly) and will be counted as one insertion, as will three-time ads ordered printed in Tuesday's or Wednesday's issues of the Daily.

Ads received up to 10:30 A. M. will be inserted the same day. A charge of 50 cents is made for publishing cards of thanks. Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.

Advert attention given to mail orders. Rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time..... 10c per line.
Three times for the price of two.
Seven times for the price of three.
Fourteen times for the price of six.
Twenty-eight times for the price of twelve.
The publishers will be responsible only for one incorrect insertion of an advertisement.

CAPTORS FREE SCHOOL YOUTH; FOUND GAGGED

Dumped From Car In Park After Being Abducted Monday; Ransom Asked

WILMINGTON, Del., March 15.—Chester Hyde, 21, of Woodbridge, N. J., who was found lying in Rockford park here early this morning, bound hand and foot, has confessed that his "ransom kidnapping" was a hoax, Chief of Police Howard L. Boyd announced today.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 15.—Chester Hyde, 21-year-old high school student, who was kidnapped Monday in Delaware, N. J., near here, was found bound and gagged in a secluded section of Rockford park early today.

Hyde told police and federal agents, who had been conducting an exhaustive hunt for him, that he had been held by a woman and two men in a Philadelphia boarding house.

The trio overpowered him in Colonia on Monday night while he was enroute from his home to his high school in Rahway, N. J., and took him to Philadelphia, he said.

Last night, the youth related, he was brought to Wilmington in an automobile, bound and gagged, and dumped from the car in the park.

The youth said he was unable to account for his kidnapping.

The youth was uninjured except for bruises incurred when he was flung from the automobile.

Finding of the night school student ended an intensive and widespread police search that began in earnest Wednesday when his stepfather, William Leila, received a letter demanding the $10,000 ransom and threatening death to young Hyde, unless the money was delivered.

Receipt of the ransom letter was confirmed by New Jersey state police only a few hours after the boy was found in the park here.

The letter, it was disclosed, was preceded by two anonymous telephone calls informing the youth's stepfather that Chester was "all right" and telling Leila to await instructions.

more families lay in the path of the swelling St. Francis river in Arkansas and southeast Missouri.

The Red Cross was taking special precautions to guard against disease among the refugees.

Upwards of 100,000 acres of bottomland was under water. The Missouri Mingo basin district lay beneath a murky lake of swirling water 24 miles long.

Volunteers in boats continued the work of rescuing marooned families from upper stories of homes and barns, carrying the homeless to safety.

maker in addition to the benefits of appreciative members of the sportsmen's association.

The author of the bill, during the morning session, Mr. Tamm, brought personal greetings from Governor Martin L. Davey to the members of the organization, and paid a high tribute to those who are making an organized effort to further the cause of conservation and the propagation and protection of game.

A. L. Holt, engineer, inspector of the Department of Public Works, returned briefly to the work being done at the canal dam and stated that it is possible to extend the program to make this spot not only a place for fishing but a general recreation park as well with the erection of a shelter house, providing parking place, a bathing beach, picnic grounds, etc.

Other visitors who were introduced by the master of ceremonies included: Fred P. Elmer, clerk of the House of Representatives; Al Kell, chairman of the Fish and Game Committee of the House; Grover Trasher, member of the fish and game committee; Robert P. Kaser, chairman of the general session of the Finance Committee of the House; F. O. Kugel, engineer, Department of Public Works, State Senator August W. Weber, Columbus; J. F. Atwood, Columbus; Clark W. Hunsicker, member of the legislature from Pickaway; Kenick W. Dunlap; and J. E. Meckstroth, editor of the Ohio State Journal.

The introductions occasioned quite a bit of levity and repartee between the master of ceremonies and guests, much to entertainment of the audience.

All Are Thanked

President Betz closed the meeting with a brief review of the organization's activities. He thanked the Elks for the use of the club rooms, the members for their interest and attendance, the various committees and officers for the splendid efforts to make the annual affair a success, and asked for a rising vote of thanks and appreciation to Charles T. Gilmore, manager, and the Southern Ohio Utilities Co. for donating the use of machinery, trucks and equipment in the construction of the canal dam.

President Betz urged that all sportsmen purchase their hunting and fishing licenses through some member of the Pickaway Farmers' and Sportsmen's association, as the

BILL IN CONGRESS IS BOON TO STATE POTATO GROWERS

A potato bill proposed in Congress which would include potatoes under the AAA as a basic commodity, should prove a decided boon to Ohio potato growers, in the opinion of W. E. Stough, trustee of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, and president of the Ohio Vegetable Growers' Association.

"Although the proposed control program does not include reduction or benefit payments, it permits the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate and decide the size of crop to be sold," the farm bureau official states, "which should operate to bring the price to farmers up to a pre-war purchasing parity."

Under the bill, the annual allotment to each state will be based on the annual average acreage for the three years in which the highest acreage was planted. State committees will then make allotments to each county, and county committees will allot to individual growers.

"I personally believe that this piece of legislation will greatly benefit Ohio potato growers because of its restriction on producers of other basic commodities who have shifted into the production of potatoes," Stough declared. "There is no doubt in my mind that controlled production will not only afford us better prices, but that it will also give us more leisure

Simple little sleeves, but what a difference they make! The way they scoop over the shoulders and form the side neckline is both new and thrilling. This frock, with the richness of design found in expensive models, needs only a beautiful material to make it one of Spring's outstanding frocks. It may be a large dol, on a white or pastel ground, or a bouquet or garden print, but it should be colorful and chosen with an eye to harmonizing various accessories with it. Care, too, should be exercised in the selection of buttons and belt, that they may add to the chic of the dress.

Pattern 9323 may be ordered only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 3 1/8 yards 36 inch fabric.
